U.S. GETTING READY TO BE IN GUN PARLEY

Coolidge Will Select Five Men to Represent U. S. in Conference

WAIT FOR APPROPRIATION

American Delegation Expected to Sail for Europe
on Feb. 6

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Subject to final action by President Coolidge plans for American participation in the Geneva arms limitation preparatory discussions are taking shape on the basis of assigning Minister Hugh Gibson as commissioner, with four technical experts—two from the army and two from the navy, to assist him.

The president is waiting for congress to complete action on the $50,000 appropriation he has requested now caught in the senate legislative blockade, before finally making his selections known. There is some concern at the delay as the delegation should sail not later than Feb. 6, if the original February date for the opening of the preparatory commission session is not postponed due to the differences between Russia and Switzerland. No official word on this point has been received.

PREPARE DATE

In the meantime a group of experts is working up data and policy outlines for the American delegation. They are anticipating a general round-table exchange of expert views at Geneva since the commission will not have power to make treaty comments.

It is increasingly evident that the Washington government is hopeful definite progress toward formulation of a satisfactory agenda for an actual conference or a series of conferences, for arms limitation as a result of this somewhat informal, although official canvassing of expert opinion.

President Coolidge has indicated his hope of calling a supplementary naval conference in Washington. His instructions to American delegates, however, are expected to show an open minded attitude in that regard. The delegations will have no formula of its own to propose.

TOLEDO POLICE PROBE NEW SLUGGING CASE

Toledo, Ohio—(AP)—Toledo police were confronted Friday with a new slugging case. The second attack on a woman this week and the tenth in recent months occurred at midnight when Miss Dorothy Burton, 20, was beaten unconscious by a youth in front of her home. The man had followed her from a show, seizing her from behind and striking her with his fist. Screaming for help, the young woman fought back, but was knocked unconscious just as her father came to her aid. Authorities were inclined to believe that this latest attack had no connection with other recent assaults in which a club apparently was used as a weapon.

The attack came while police were attempting to solve the slaying of Miss Mary Handley, 14, whose body was found in the rear of a yard next to her home earlier in the week. Her head had been crushed by heavy blows. Her attacker had gagged his victim with her own torn clothing. Miss Handley was the third woman to be killed.

POLICE IDENTIFY TORSO AS PENNSYLVANIA WOMAN

Media, Pa.—(AP)—Satisfied that the headless and legless body of a young woman found in a clump of trees is that of Miss Anna May Dietrich of Norwood, Pa., police, Friday directed their efforts in search of the missing head and torso, establishing a motive. Several hours after the torso was found Thursday Alexander L. Schuh, Philadelphia manager for the Independent Tool Co., told the police that the clothing found on the dismembered body was that worn by his sister-in-law, Miss Dietrich, who was 34 years old, was employed by a Philadelphia publishing company.

Schuh said Miss Dietrich went shopping in Philadelphia Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. Schuh, the pair separating shortly before 6 p. m. Miss Dietrich had not been seen by either since. Schuh was able to explain the initials "H. B. Z. to T." on the gold wrist watch which was found on the left wrist of the victim.

An autopsy failed to establish the primary cause of death. The body bore no marks of violence. A coroner's physician expressed the belief however, that the woman had been murdered.

PUZZLING EARTH SHOCK IS FELT NEAR BOSTON

Boston—(AP)—A new kind of earth shock which sounded like a great explosion and which was felt in half a dozen cities and towns near Boston was engaging the attention of puzzled scientists Friday.

So far, all theories have failed to explain the origin of the series of tremors which Thursday shook the walls and window panes in Cambridge and Somerville and was registered on the Harvard University seismograph. Officials at the Harvard observatory and the geology department admitted the possibility of an earthquake but looked more for news of an explosion. Professor F. Mather, pointed however, that if an earthquake had occurred, it was of strictly local character and probably centered no more than five or ten miles from Harvard.

The shock was felt almost entirely to the northwest of Boston. The city proper felt nothing.

EXPECT VOTE ON LIMITING COURT DEBATE

Tribunal's Supporters Secure
Signatures to Petition Demanding Roll Call

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—A vote on the question of limiting debate on the world court was assured Friday when the court's supporters secured more than enough signatures to a petition asking for such a vote.

An agreement to limit debate after Feb. 8 was objected to on the Senate floor by Senator Blease, Democrat, South Carolina, one of the court opponents.

Senator Welsh, Democrat, Montana, then began circulation of a petition for invoking the cloture rule.

Upon its presentation with 16 signatures, the Senate must vote on the question of limiting debate to one hour for each Senator.

Only 16 signatures were required to force the Senate to decide whether it will limit debate. That number was obtained on the Democratic side of the Senate in less than 5 minutes after the petition was drawn up. At the same time a similar petition was in circulation on the Republican side when many signed it.

When the question of limitation comes to a vote, a two thirds majority will be necessary to carry it.

SEE POSSIBLE END OF DUPONT ROMANCE

New York—(AP)—The possible end of a society romance was in sight Friday with news that Mrs. Alicia Dupont Glendenning, adopted daughter of Alfred I. DuPont, had established a residence at Reno, Nev. She has been separated from her husband for some time.

Society Friday recalled her dramatic marriage in London in 1922 to Harold Glendenning, son of the Earl of Harold Glendenning, whom she met in her foster father's powder plant in Delaware during the war.

She first saw Glendenning, a chemist, in his shirt sleeves while making a tour of the plant. They were introduced and Miss Dupont invited him to spend the following weekend at the DuPont estate.

Late Glendenning, a Rhodes Scholar, went to Oxford to continue his studies and she went to Europe on the same ship to study music in Paris. Their marriage in London followed shortly.

POSTPONE DURKIN'S PLEA TO MURDER CHARGE

Chicago—(AP)—Martin Durkin's formal plea to two murder indictments was postponed for one week. His attorney represented that he did not know whether he would be retained for the trial.

The young desperado was to have faced first the charge of having slain Harry Gray, a Chicago detective sergeant, as an incident of his protracted effort to evade arrest after he shot and killed Edwin C. Shanahan, a federal department of justice operative who sought to capture him for automobile thefts.

HOLD MAN AT MADISON FOR CHICAGO POLICE

Madison—Frank Edwards, one of six men arrested here Tuesday because it was feared that they might intend harm to Frank C. Marsh, federal prisoner from Atlanta, Ga., who regarding Wisconsin postoffice robbery, is held in the Dane-co jail here for questioning by Chicago police.

The other five men were released Friday.

"SHEIK" DURKIN GOES BACK TO JAIL

FIRE DESTROYS PEA CANNING FACTORY

Eau Claire—(AP)—Fire believed to have started from one of the many heaters in the building early Friday morning destroyed the warehouse of the Barron-co Canning and Pickling Co. at Chetek. The loss is estimated at between $40,000 and $50,000, partly covered by insurance. Between $50,000 and 100,000 cans of peas and other products were included in the contents of the building destroyed.

ATTEMPT FLIGHT OVER ATLANTIC

Three Spanish Aviators Start for Buenos Aires Friday Morning

Palos, Spain—(AP)—Three Spanish aviators started at 8 o'clock Friday morning in the sea plane Plus Ultra on the first leg of a flight for Buenos Ayres and possibly New York. The first stop will be Las Palmas Canary Islands. The aviators are Commando Ramon Franco, Captain Ruiz de Alva and Ensign Duran. The distance to Buenos and New York is 12,323 miles.

The Columbus of the air, Commander Franco, is seeking again to link Spain with the Americas, and from the exact spot in the Domingo Rubio canal here whence the caravels of Columbus set forth.

Franco has been known as the "Jackal" since his aviation school days because he wore a large lock of his shaggy black hair over his bronzed face.

She first saw Glendenning, a chemist, in his shirt sleeves while making a tour of the plant. They were introduced and Miss Dupont invited him to spend the following weekend at the DuPont estate.

Late Glendenning, a Rhodes Scholar, went to Oxford to continue his studies and she went to Europe on the same ship to study music in Paris. Their marriage in London followed shortly.

WORLD COURT ISSUE IS UP TO COOLIDGE

Is One of Most Complicated Situations President Has Had to Face

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1926, by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington — President Coolidge's first opportunity for leadership in a matter of paramount importance has come in connection with the fate of the world court protocol. It's a question of strategy in what is admittedly one of the most complicated situations Mr. Coolidge has had to face since he took office.

If the president remains silent and allows the world court protocol to be shunted to one side till after the tax bill is passed, the protocol stands a good chance of being put aside later in the session and possibly not voted on at all until next December. If the president speaks to his supporters on Capitol Hill and insists upon action now he will get it.

The difficulty is that Mr. Coolidge does not want to inject himself into the situation unless absolutely compelled to do so.

And the opponents of the World Court have scared the advocates away from cloture so the decision now must be made whether the world court protocol can be left till after the tax bill or a vote forced at once.

The opponents of the bill want delay because they think they can rouse the country to opposition with more time in which to debate the issue. The defenders of the court recognize that anything can be talked to death and that the world court is no exception. The anti-world court group has not started a real filibuster yet. That's why the move to invoke cloture was really premature and did not gain favor. The next step on the part of the pro-court senators is to force the opponents to show their hand and filibuster.

SEE FILIBUSTER

If Senator Smoot announces that on a certain date and at a certain hour he will ask the senate to take up the tax bill, the chances are that Senator Lenroot asks for night sessions and a filibuster against the court will be organized. It would be the first filibuster of the session and vice president Dawes who went across the country last summer denouncing the senate rules—or rather the disinclination to use them—would be vindicated.

Friends of the world court protocol believe that if a filibuster does develop many of the senators, who have been saving in the last few days that they opposed application of the cloture rule would be forced to vote to end debate or be counted as unfriendly to the court. But the senate will be slow to take up cloture and an effort may be made at the last minute to get unanimous consent to vote on the World Court protocol on March 1 when it is expected that the tax bill will have been passed by the senate.

Such a compromise would probably be preferred by leaders on the pro-court side to the use of cloture, but the opponents are a skilful lot and as long as they think there's a chance to defeat the court they will not be parties to a unanimous consent agreement to fix a vote.

Mr. Coolidge by his influence with his party and with the Democrats in this instance can indicate his desire for action and probably can get it. He has been hoping the situation would develop a climax without suggestion from him but it looks as if the parliamentary mixup will not be solved without word from the White House.

HIRE 200 GUARDS TO PROTECT GOLD OF NEW YORK BANK

New York—(AP)—Formation of a semi-military guard of 200 armed men for the vast store of gold at the federal reserve bank, intended to make it the most impregnable financial fortress in the world, has been announced. The guard is under the leadership of Col. Hiram Bearss, who retired from the United States Marine corps four years ago after 30 years of active service.

Col. Bearss, who holds decorations for bravery from half a dozen governments, took charge secretly several days ago.

DISCOVER PLOT AGAINST LIFE OF ALEXANDER

Belgrade, Yugoslavia—(AP)—Discovery of a plot against the lives of King Alexander and his cabinet ministers is believed to be behind the sudden decision of Premier Fachtich to return from the Riviera where he went on Jan. 10 for an announced lengthy stay for his health. The police are continuing their raids on homes of known communists and the number of persons arrested had reached 500.

The plot against the king and members of the government is said to have been revealed by an arrest of a workman in Zagreb.

The man was spending money lavishly, boasting that he had received 250,000 dollars from Moscow as part payment for the work to be executed.

LATEST PLAN TURNED DOWN BY OPERATORS

Peace Move of Scranton Times Is Acceptable to United Mine Workers

NEGOTIATIONS DELAYED

Operators Maintain Plan Contains Nothing New for Either Side

Philadelphia, Pa.—(AP)—The latest effort to end the coal strike has apparently failed.

Anthracite mine operators made known here Friday that they will not re-enter negotiations with the miners workers to end the long suspension on the basis of the plan proposed by the Scranton Times.

President John L. Lewis of the Miners union, announced earlier Friday at Scranton that he was going into conference on the basis of the latest proposal with certain suggestions to make.

"The plan," the operators announced "did not contain anything that had not been thoroughly threshed out in previous conferences. For this reason it does not afford a basis for renewal of negotiations."

The reply of W. W. Ingalls, chairman of the operator's negotiating committee, Thursday night left the impression in the mining regions that he was favorable to renewing negotiations on the basis of the plan.

After Mr. Lewis announced he was willing to re-enter negotiations the operators made their position clear that the proposed plan did not meet any requirement of the situation and had not been accepted by Mr. Ingalls or the operators."

The plan proposed by the Scranton Times is brief as follows:

First—the miners to resume work immediately.

Second—a five year contract dating from the time of signing the agreement.

Third—wages in effect under the changed as hereinafter provided last contract to continue during the term of the new contract unless

Fourth—at the instance of either party given in writing 60 days before two years elapsed from the signing of the contract, a conference may be called for the consideration of changes in the agreement on the subject of wages only; the miners to remain at work until the end of the five year contract whether conciliators agree upon a change or not.

Fifth—one year before the contract expires, representatives of the coal operators and representatives of the United Mine Workers to meet to devise an agreement whereby work may be continued at the mines at the expiration of the contract and during the negotiations for a new agreement.

DEPERE YOUTH BOUND OVER TO STAND TRIAL

Do Pere, 16—(AP)—At a preliminary hearing here Thursday, Edward Le Roy, 16-year-old De Pere youth was bound over on $1,000 bond for trial Feb. 8 on a charge of shooting Joseph Linders, 16, also of De Pere. Le Roy, however, was unable to raise the bail and is being held in county jail.

JOHNSTON POST WANTS RITES AS VETERANS JOIN

Appoint Committee to Prepare Ritual for Ceremony of Initiation

One Johnston post of the American Legion probably will be the pioneer in establishing an elaborate ritual and initiation ceremony for legion posts if suggestion of the executive council which met Wednesday evening at the Conway Hotel is carried out by the post. Members of the council feel that an impressive ritual and initiation should go hand in hand with membership in so worthy an organization as the American Legion. If a proper ritual is worked out it is thought that the idea may be adopted by other legion posts throughout the state and eventually throughout the country, and that in this way a uniform initiation service may be adopted.

A committee with Henry Pettigrew as chairman, was appointed to start work on a ritual. Other members are Charles Baker, L. Hugo Kelle, Herbert Heing, August Arens, and George Dame. The committee will report at the next meeting of the Oney Johnston post.

WRONG PUBLICITY

Considerable time was spent in discussing the type of bad publicity often given to the legion. It was pointed out that the American Legion had fallen in the estimation of some people because newspapers and magazines very often played up a large Legion meeting as a sort of carnival, where an idea of law and order was abandoned, and the principle idea was to outdo the other fellow in one sort of dissipation or another. Discussion revealed that this was the prevalent type of publicity regarding the Legion, and that the organization was suffering severely from this yellow journalism. It was said that comparatively little mention was ever made of the many great and worthy projects undertaken by the Legion such as welfare work, citizenship training, and sponsoring of clean athletics among the young people of the country.

Sixty members of the council attended the meeting. The session was preceded by a dinner in the French room.

GRADUATE STUDENTS SEEK FURTHER TRAINING

Many students of Appleton Vocational school derived so much benefit from the practical training they received that they have voluntarily enrolled in the day school classes to advance the work they took up in school. It was learned. About twelve per cent of the day school enrollment is voluntary, and this is considered a very high percentage. Night school classes are made almost entirely of voluntary students. A group of nine former machine shop students have enrolled for special training in mechanics work. They spend most of their time at the school. One man, 33 years old, puts in full time every day and every evening working on a special training course in which he has enrolled.

Noted Poet Writes Poem For Sunnyview Children

Boys of Sunnyview school, Green-ville, are a happy group this winter here as the result of a letter, poem and autographed picture received from Emos F. Hayward, famous Wisconsin poet of the north woods, who resides in the last house on high way 32, two miles north of Conover, Vilas co. Students of the school are studying famous Badgers as part of their fifth grade reading course and it was suggested that they write to Mr. Hayward.

He answered their letters with a photograph of himself autographed and a poem by the same title written especially for them. He promised the boys an autographed copy of his latest book which he is working on. The boys intend to write him again. Mr. Hayward became famous as Wisconsin's own poet through his book, "Poems of the North Woods" written in a veritable jungle which surrounded his northern Wisconsin home. His rugged style of depicting the woods and streams with which he is so familiar was recognized through a newspaper poem in a northern Wisconsin paper which was read by a Chicago publisher while he was on his vacation. The poem which Mr. Hayward dedicated to the Greenville boys follows:

"My dear little friends, your letter just came,

With its message of friendship and cheer.

Which means more to me than mere glory and fame,

EXAMINE TEETH OF SCHOOL PUPILS

Dentists Prepare for Opening of Dental Clinic in Lincoln School

Teeth of practically all school children in Appleton were examined Thursday in the school buildings by Appleton dentists. This examination was preliminary to the establishment of a free dental clinic at the Lincoln School for the use of children not able to afford dental care.

The examining dentists prepared records of the defects found and reported to the parents urging them to have the faults corrected by the family dentist. If parents cannot afford to pay for treatment, they were to sign the report and return it to the school, and treatment will be accorded as soon as possible at the dental clinic.

This clinic is sponsored by the Kiwanis club, and dental service will be provided by the club. Thursday's examinations were given by the dentists free of charge. Pupils were not required to be examined.

It was unsafe to go out of doors after dark during the reign of Henry VIII because of footpads.

SEVEN UTILITIES ARE ABSORBED BY BIG FIRM

Seven small light, heat, power and traction companies of northern Wisconsin were merged with the Wisconsin Public Service Corporation of Milwaukee in a transfer of stock involving $206,900, according to papers received Thursday at the office of A. G. Koch, register of deeds, from Fred R. Zimmerman, secretary of state. The papers were filed with Mr. Zimmerman on Saturday, Jan. 16. The Milwaukee corporation runs a number of interurban railways in the state and it recently bought up the stock of the seven smaller companies. The companies which merged with the Milwaukee firm and the amounts of stock follow:

Ontheastern Power Co., $121,000; Green Bay Park Railway Co., $5,000; Riverview Motor Bus Co., $5,000; Northern Light, Heat and Power Co., $20,000; Denmark Light and Power Co., $15,000; Wabeno Lighting Co., $5,000; Oslo Power and Light Co., $5,900.

LEVITAN WRONG IN SCHOOL PLEA, CASHMAN AVERS

Denmark Legislator Condemns Tendency Away from Rural School

Denmark — (AP)—Public utterances by State Treasurer Solomon Levitan on the subject of education have drawn fire from State Senator F. Cashman of Denmark. Senator Cashman also is a member of the University of Wisconsin board of regents.

"The rural school," says Senator Cashman, "needs to be rescued from its so-called friends. Nothing has been done for the rural school in forty years except to crowd it with frills and discredit it—taking the temperature, counting the pulse, and giving physical exercise. All these may be good but they are taking the place of fundamentals. At every session of the legislature the country school must run the gauntlet of a crowd of fadists. The rural school is in the same position as the farmers—getting plenty of attention, but no help."

Treasurer Levitan, the senator says, has had his popularity imposed upon him being furnished misleading data on the country school. He quotes the state treasurer as saying in Eau Claire address.

"There are still too many one-room school houses, poorly furnished and inadequately equipped where consolidation of districts could make possible up-to-date building with every modern convenience. There are still too many districts where the school term is all too short to give the children the educational opportunities they deserve."

To this Senator Cashman replies:

"If education means big buildings and dormitories for teachers and nurses with every modern convenience, if it means packing little tots into bobsleighs and buses and hauling them at $5 each to the big school in the village or city where they may get urban influence all too soon at this plastic age; if education means state paternalism and a gigantic machine directed from above and reaching out everywhere, then by all means do away with the rural school."

"But if education means building of character and protection in those tender years by home influences and ideals, if it means homely virtues and sturdy citizenship that build a nation, then preserve and improve the country schools that stand so close to the rural home and close to the hearts of the people, for they are the nation's strongest fort!"

Senator Cashman declared that rural school consolidation has proven a very costly experiment for the farmers of Iowa and consolidation plans are at a standstill there at the present time because farmers refuse to give ear to any more such proposals. Meanwhile, he says, in Iowa, more than 70,000 one room schools are functioning in a manner more efficient than ever, and their graduates show they are up with the work of graded school children.

Questions For a Mother To Ask Herself About Her Child's Food.

Did my child take a pint and a half of milk today in some form or other?

Were the fats which I gave my child of the wholesome kind found in milk, cream, butter, and salad oils, or the unwholesome kind found in doughnuts and other fried foods?

Were all cereal foods thoroughly cooked?

Did my child have an egg or an equivalent weight, about two ounces, of meat, fish, or poultry?

Were both vegetables and fruits on my child's bill of fare once during the day?

Do I want a free booklet which explains the general principles which should govern my child's diet, and gives facts about foods we should have and how to cook them?

The Washington Information Bureau of this paper has such a booklet. Just enclose a two cent stamp to cover the return postage on your copy.

FIREMEN CALLED OUT TWICE ON COLD DAY

Appleton fire department responded to two calls Thursday afternoon and evening. The first came at 3:30 in the afternoon when a chimney fire was discovered at the home of Gustave Krueger, 1713 S. Oneida-st. At 10 o'clock Thursday evening, the department was informed of a fire at the rear of the State Lunch, 215-217 W. College-ave., and an automobile owned by Walter Larsen, Neenan, was found burning in front of the establishment. The blaze was extinguished in a few minutes by the use of chemicals. The fire was caused by a short circuit.

HARPIST WINS WAY TO HEARTS OF MUSIC FANS

Crowd Enthusiastic Over Musician and Enjoys Quartet's Concert.

A rare interpretative ability, a sympathetic understanding of the harp, and a perfect technique to express her music were the attributes of Miss Mildred Dilling, harpist, who appeared in concert with the De Reszke Singers at Lawrence chapel on Thursday evening before a fair sized audience. Miss Dilling's personal charm and beauty of appearance complemented the skill and beauty of her music.

The De Reszke Singers could not be considered on the same plane as Miss Dilling although they gave a very competent performance. Their best work was done with accompaniment, especially Mendelssohn's "On Wings of Song" with Miss Dilling accompanying. This was so enthusiastically acclaimed by the audience that it was repeated in order to satisfy the demands of the applause. At times it seemed as if the very technique so much praised in the press notices of the singers was their stumbling block to music.

The harp under the fingers of Miss Dilling painted pictures so vivid that the applause following seemed a harsh interruption to a romantic, fanciful, sometimes gay and sometimes sad tale. In Debussy's "Clair de Lune" each tone appeared to be an entity in itself, so clear, pure and wholesome were they, yet her rhythm and coloring blended the tones to make one elusive picture even as "the lights of the moon."

Erwyn Mutch, baritone, had probably the finest quality of voice of any of the De Reszke troupe. His work was particularly fine in the final group of Negro Spirituals. The others were Hardesty Johnson, tenor, Floyd Townsley, tenor, and Harold Kellogg, basso. Perhaps the most appealing song, aside from the Mendelssohn,

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action, it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga.

DEBATORS HOLD PRACTICE MEETS

High School Speakers Drilled in Arguments in Pre-schedule Contests

Affirmative debate team of Appleton High school held a practice debate with a neighboring high school Wednesday, and the negative squad met with the affirmative team of the same high school Thursday evening. Names of the opponents in practice debates are not to be announced according to an agreement between the coaches of the schools.

Only the coaches and debating squads are present at these meets, the purpose being to show debators and coaches the weaknesses in the arguments, to give confidence to the speakers, and to give the speakers practice in thinking quickly and knowing about what to expect in the real debates to follow. Coach Warren Wright and the coach of the visiting Wright and the coach of the visitors were pleased with the results of the two days work, Mr. Wright said.

The high school affirmative team included Carl Nelson, Theodore Lang, and Marie Catlin. Bertha Greenberg, Merle Zuehlke and John Catlin made up the negative squad used Thursday.

Another nearby town will be debated Monday, and during the week the two teams will travel out to other places and meet one squad in the afternoon and the other squad at night. No more practice work will be done after that for a week or two when the debaters will work on their material, and especially on rebuttal work.

A few informal dinner parties are being planned for the debate squads in February, and possibly a theatre party. Only two seniors are on the teams this year, so the prospects for an experienced squad next year are bright. Debaters, like athletes, are required to keep up their grades in scholastic work in order to stay on the teams.

DUPING THE PUBLIC

It is strange how far human nature will suffer itself to be imposed upon in the cause of politics. A man gets an idea in his head that the so-called "principles" of a politician represent social justice, and he will suffer the most flagrant injustices at the hands of this leader without a murmur. He will permit him to violate his trust, if in office, he will close his eyes to unfulfilled promises, and he will go down in his pockets and pay excessive taxes to keep him and his machine in squandering.

The people of Illinois, for instance, have been duped blind and deaf, and yet they keep on electing a governor actually convicted of appropriating a million dollars of public funds to his private use. A congressional district in Kentucky reelected a representative after he was convicted of official graft, and who is now in the penitentiary.

In Wisconsin they keep on electing politicians who milk them blind in taxes. They accept any sort of explanation, no matter how wild or ridiculous it may be of why these excessive taxes are necessary. If the machine they serve so dutifully raises the taxes in order to squander more money, they cheerfully come across, evidently on the theory that it costs money to serve so good a cause. What the cause is they have not the remotest idea, except that it is represented to them as in some mysterious way promoting the ends of "social justice," and as a fight against the "interests."

Wisconsin's tax system is a gross imposition on every taxpayer, large and small. So is its traveling and stationary bureaucracy. The terrific cost of state government, and the maintenance of a great political machine centering in Madison, is responsible for the high taxes in every city and county. It is responsible for the taxes levied for local purposes, as well as those levied for state purposes. It is at the bottom of the whole topheavy tax structure. It makes local taxes high because it has taken away from local taxing bodies those sources of revenue which legitimately belong to them and appropriates them to the state treasury.

This is a clever ruse to make the people think state government is costing them little or nothing, where, as a matter of fact, they are footing the entire bill, no matter from what source the state gets its money. In the long run it comes out of their pockets and it is not a very long run at that, because it immediately raises their property, income and state taxes. It enters at once into the high rates of taxation in every city and county, in fact it is the only factor that has made these taxes, nine eases out of ten, so much higher than they ought to be and the subject of public complaint.

The people kick about the taxes, but they go right on electing the men who are to blame for making them burdensome. They kick about further increase, but they go right on re-electing the men who make the increases. They are both horn-swagglers and buffaloes. They think they are doing something that is noble or fine, or that is good for themselves in some indefinable way, and their benevolence is like that of the innocent citizen who fills the cup of the eye-handaged beggar whose sight is unimpaired and who takes their money and goes and spends it for bad whiskey. That is the size of the situation in Wisconsin, and nobody knows it better than the politicians who are getting away with it.

SPEEDING UP TRAFFIC

The proposal to increase the speed limit for automobiles in Wisconsin on the public highways is well timed. For several years it has been apparent to all users of the highways that a maximum speed of 30 miles per hour is not only unfair, but is unsafe and impractical. There is a certain amount of traffic to be moved at a certain speed if it is not to be congested, and we have passed the point where a maximum of 30 miles an hour can keep the highways open.

We believe it is safer to fix a speed above 30 miles, and hold the motorist to that speed. Today 30 miles, means 35 or 40 or even more in some localities, depending upon the policies and efficiency of the enforcement officers. Furthermore, it is hardly fair to the motorist who is covering long distances to hold him down to the legal limit. He could not get anywhere at that rate of speed, and of course does not attempt to keep within it.

Michigan for some years has had a maximum speed of 35 miles per hour and it has been very satisfactory — certainly much more satisfactory than Wisconsin's 30 mile limit. Whether we should increase our speed limit to 35 or 40 miles an hour is a debatable question. There are arguments both for and against 40 miles. There are none against 35 miles as being excessive. If the speed were put at 40 miles per hour we should say that all counties should adopt a policy of enforcing that limit and making arrests for anything substantially over 10 miles.

If the maximum speed is raised, a minimum should also be established of something like 25 miles per hour. Some agreement ought to be reached by automobile clubs and the counties on a bill that could be presented and passed at the next session of the legislature. It is not too early to begin its consideration now.

THE BORAH FILIBUSTER

When the debate on the world court commenced in December, Senator Borah made it known that while he would oppose the court, he would not obstruct a vote. He is now disregarding that implied promise when he is leading a filibuster to prevent a vote. The opponents have talked themselves out. Some days ago they exhausted the subject, when it became apparent that they could not go on reiterating their few objections indefinitely.

They are now reduced to reading extracts from magazines, speeches made in the senate years ago, and anything they can get their hands on, whether it pertains to the subject under discussion or not. This is not debate. It is a filibuster.

The plea of the opponents for more time and the setting of a date some time after February 15, when other business presses for attention before the senate, is ironical to say the least. The world court has been before the senate for three years now, and certainly that is time sufficient for its consideration. The opponents may imagine that their harangue is eagerly listened to by the country, but they are mistaken. General Dawes has stirred up another hornet's nest by a radio broadcast in which he "burned the senate up" for permitting the filibuster to continue. General Dawes, however, is right, and the people are with him in his efforts to reform senate procedure.

The senate can force a vote by resorting to cloture, but it would be better not to go to this extreme, for cloture has the appearance of shutting off debate, and it is a right theory of our legislative system that there should be full and free discussion of every measure. Nevertheless, when debate degenerates into a filibuster the cloture is not only defensible but advisable. The proponents of the world court have presented their case. So have the opponents. It is the opposition which is preventing a vote. The time has arrived when, unless a date for a vote in the near future can be mutually agreed upon, cloture should be adopted and the responsibility placed where it belongs, upon Mr. Borah and the little band trailing after him.

Government is a gamble. And, in foreign countries now, the king is not as high as the jack.

Shouldn't a change be made in American playing cards: jack high then queen, then king?

The question of the age is, "She's older than that."

No woman ever won a bridge prize that was as good as the one she gave at her party.

What's become of the old-fashioned girl who used to kiss her mother goodnight after coming in from a party?

A gentleman will not cuss before ladies, nor even when the ladies are too drunk to hear him.

You have to cultivate good habits. The bad ones grow wild.

THE FAT MAN'S ARTERIES (II)

Plumpness, up to 10 per cent overweight, is not only pleasing in a young person but according to life expectancy experienced tables it is favorable to longevity. But the life insurance people always frown on the fat applicant who has passed the age of 30, because they have found that such persons do not pay premiums very long. It seems that the fat man's arteries give out after a little while and first thing you know his widow or orphans are seeking a settlement of the claim. Maybe you have noticed that very few of the old folks are fat; that is because so few fat ones grow old.

Some people are born fat; some achieve obesity, few marry good cooks.

Today, dear brethren, we are talking about the arteries of the chap who achieves dignity. Almost always he patronizes the main line, preferring the observation car, and on the way he is likely to break a few records in long distance sitting.

It happens sometimes that he is an engineer and makes the minor part of his sitting in his cab, kid-giving himself that pulling the throttle is quite a bit of exercise. That isn't so bad if the man is wise enough to have some recreation, hobby, avocation or spare time interest which requires real muscular activity.

Pretty tough on the arteries of the man who lives by his wits if his recreation is watching ball games, attending shows, flitting or playing with the radio. These are healthful recreation for the man who lives by honest work.

The women, God help 'em, seem to be figuring more and more in the arterial tragedies nowadays. Laiee saying inventions must be credited in part for this; then there is the coupe. The surprising think about that woman who walked 44 miles in 11 hours in New England recently is that she was not a somnambulist.

The present craze for reduction among girls in their teens must be discouraged by every one with due regard for health and beauty. If the girls will just wait about 20 years we can heartily co-operate with them in the slenderizing movement. Meantime the best prescription I can offer to any mature adult who is headed toward obesity is this: Two miles of oxygen on the hoof, three times a day. That takes two hours a day and the more valuable your time the better the investment, for remember, aside from all the minor and obvious benefits you derive from this best of all exercises, the main gain is that it saves your arteries.

It is true that in the insidious early stage of achieved obesity measurement of the blood pressure generally shows it is well above the normal; this is a very frequent finding in periodic health examinations. It would be very foolish for the individual to enter upon a course of treatment of any kind which purports to reduce blood pressure. But I gather there are lots of foolish folk monkeying with their blood pressure and ignoring what ails them.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Climbing Stairs

Doctors condemn stair climbing for women. Yet our new high schools have long flights of stairs, and girls must climb several flights of stairs daily; is this not harmful for the future women of the race? (L. P. P.)

Answer—In my judgment it is a good form of exercise for school girls, and I do not agree with the old fogey "doctors" who condemn such activity for women—they were influenced, perhaps, by the propaganda of the female weakness exploiters. At any rate there is no particular reason why girls and women should not climb a few flights of stairs every day.

Chilblains

Do you know a sure cure for chilblains? (T. J. H.)

Answer—I know but one sure cure, that is death for taxes. Send a stamped envelope bearing your address and repeat your question. I will mail you the best advice I can give on the prevention and treatment of chilblain and frostbite.

LOOKING BACKWARD

25 YEARS AGO

Friday, Jan. 25, 1901

Mrs. Fred Pauls fell Tuesday at her home and fractured her leg.

Mr. and Mrs. George Loos were surprised last night by a number of friends in honor of their twenty wedding anniversary.

W. G. Swan, post office department inspector of free rural delivery routes, was in Appleton inspecting the proposed new routes of the Appleton system.

Officers elected at the annual meeting of the Outagamie County Produce Co. were: President E. G. Jones; vice president and manager, John L. Jacob; secretary and treasurer, Miss E. M. Briggs.

Jacob Jack of Greenville left this morning for a visit with relatives in Canada.

Mrs. Helen R. Butler, former Appleton resident, died at her home in Oak Park, Ill., Jan. 23, it was learned here.

A committee of arrangements for the charity ball to be given by the German Ladies Aid society at the armory Feb. 7 was appointed and consisted of Miss J. H. Harbeck, Mrs. F. J. Kurz, Mrs. A. J. Simpich and Mrs. H. W. Meyer.

William E. Barratt of Appleton and Miss Rachel Shepherd of Indianapolis were married at the latter city on Jan. 23, it was made known here.

Miss Josephine McGillan, formerly of Appleton and more recently of Menominee, Mich., was now located in Chicago where she was employed in the Cook County Savings bank.

10 YEARS AGO

Friday, Jan. 21, 1916

The cause of good roads was given a big boost last night when more than 100 Appleton men at the Commercial club banquet at the Y. M. C. A. voted informally in favor of the proposed $700,000 bond issue for good roads.

W. E. Stoenenbeck severed his connection with the Whiting-Plover Paper Co., of Stevens Point, as assistant manager of the mill and accepted another position with the Fox River Paper Co. of Appleton. Principal P. W. G. Keller of the Appleton high school addressed a group of business men in Oshkosh last night on Democracy and Business.

Fifty years a bachelor, former Governor Francis E. McGovern, at one time principal of the Appleton high school observed his birthday anniversary today.

The first semester of the Appleton high school closed today and many of the teachers took advantage of the work to leave the city for a few days.

The sudden unloading of a large amount of cabbage on the market caused a reduction of $2 per ton. It was now selling for $10 a ton at Chicago but local buyers were paying only between $8 and $6.

The first number of "Miss Prints," a publication issued by the class in printing at Appleton high school made its appearance.

It is inevitable," said Prof. Inouye by a study of deoxidation. According to his method, silk rags are said to be easily respun to original silk thread in a short time by the application of a certain drug. It is believed that such a discovery is bound to have a considerable effect upon the silk market.

"It is inevitable," said Prof. Inouye to a representative of a vernacular newspaper, "that the discovery should have a revolutionary effect upon the market. I believe it would be highly beneficial to the country if its remanufactured thread be made over to silk cloth for domestic cloth and that all newly spun thread should be exported. The entire process for the conversion of rags into new thread is being kept a secret."

During his experiments Asst. Prof. Hiraga discovered a process for extracting thread from silk worms in their fifth stage of growth instead of allowing them to build cocoons. By an application of a certain drug the worms are said to expel all the thread within 24 hours, according to the professor.

Art Course Will Open Next Week

Arrangements were made at the meeting of the art committee of Appleton Women's club Thursday afternoon to hold the first meeting of the new Community Art studio at 2 o'clock Saturday, Jan. 30, at the playhouse. A large number of persons from Appleton and vicinity who are interested in art are expected to enroll for the first meeting.

Classes in figure drawing and still life in black and white and in colors will be offered and it is expected that later a class in clay modeling will be opened. Anyone interested in drawing and painting is eligible to enroll. Only a small tuition fee will be charged. Information regarding materials needed for the work may be obtained from Mrs. Mark Catlin, who will have charge of the studio. The art department of the club and persons interested in encouraging artistic effort in the community will donate a number of prizes which will be awarded at the end of the season for the best original sketches and paintings.

The art committee is composed of Mrs. Catlin, Mrs. E. W. Cooney, Miss Aimee Baker, Mrs. L. G. Graf, Mrs. Walter Rogers, Mrs. Allen Thuerer, Mrs. T. H. Griffiths, Mrs. E. Louise Ellis, Miss Florence Day, Mrs. E. H. Krug, Mrs. Otto Kress, Mrs. Nita Brinkley, Miss Anna Teuney, Mrs. John Neller and Mrs. O. P. Fairfield.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS K. C. INDOOR CIRCUS

Almost 200 persons were entertained at an indoor circus and dancing party which followed the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Knights of Columbus in Columbia hall Thursday evening. Booths arranged around the hall contained "attractions" which provided considerable amusement. Clowns, balloons, trick hats, hula-hooping and other novelties added to the circus atmosphere. Music, instrumental and vocal, was furnished by the Knights of Columbus trio and the Mellorina orchestra.

Routine business was transacted at the council meeting.

PARTIES

The third dancing party given by the Bucket club will be held Thursday Feb. 4 at the E. F. U. hall at Neenah. Walter Driscoll is chairman of the committee on arrangements and will have charge of some specialty dances. Al Gables orchestra will

SHE'S MODERN, NEVERTHELESS

Plan Party In Honor Of Founder Day

A committee was appointed at the business meeting which preceded the program given by the Women's Christian Temperance union Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Dutcher, 714 N. Appleton-st, to make arrangements for a memorial program to be given Feb. 18, in honor of Frances Willard, organizer of the union. The committee is composed of Mrs. George Eberhardt, Mrs. Emma Hubbard, Mrs. C. C. Nelson and Mrs. John Graef.

About 40 persons were present at the program, which followed the business session. The Rev. L. Knutson, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Seymour, gave a report on the convention of the Anti-Saloon League which was held at Chicago. Two vocal solos were given by Miss Kathryn Schwitzy, accompanied by Miss Mildred Freudley of Lawrence Conservatory of Music. Two vocal selections, "In the Garden" and "This is My Past," were presented by Mrs. Frank E. Clayton. Mrs. J. D. Laughlin played the piano accompaniment. Three readings, "A Pair of Shoes," "A Little Child" and "Between Two Loves," were given by Miss Marjorie Spector. The program closed with a duet by Mrs. J. D. Laughlin and Mrs. John Graef.

SISTER Mary's KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY

BREAKFAST — Baked apples, cereal, thin cream, creamed finnan haddie, cornmeal muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON — Casserole of vegetables, raisin bread, caramel custard, milk, tea.

DINNER — Baked halibut steak, creamed potatoes, buttered string beans, stuffed prune salad, rice souffle, graham bread, milk, coffee.

The beans suggested for the dinner menu are canned rather than fresh. If canned vegetables are thoroughly aerated before heating and seasoning the vegetable is much improved. Let stand at least an hour in an uncovered china or glass dish and shake two or three times to be sure the pieces underneath "come up for air." A teaspoonful of sugar improves nearly all canned vegetables.

CASSEROLE OF VEGETABLES

One cup cooked peas, 1 cup diced cooked beets, 1 cup diced cooked carrots, 1 small head cauliflower, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon flour, salt and pepper, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, boiling water.

Melt butter, add peas, beets and carrots and shake over a low fire until vegetables are well coated with butter. Sift flour and salt over vegetables and stir carefully with a fork. Put the cauliflower which has stood for an hour heat down in cold salted water, in the center of a buttered casserole. Surround with vegetables and add about 1 cup of boiling water. Season with salt and pepper, 2 tablespoons flour, salt and pepper, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, boiling water.

grated cheese, boiling water.

Other combinations of vegetables can be used in practically the same way. Beans, corn, tomatoes and a large Spanish onion make a delicious casserole.

ANIMALS ARE FAVORITES

In heraldry, animals play a large part in the mascot. The greyhound has an obvious significance. Just as newspapers usually take their names from time or place, so the motor mascot usually has something to do with speed. A Paris motor mascot carried out the idea with the most feline-looking tortoise, of which the moral to the many running hares was obvious.

Whiskers or hair blown in the wind give the idea of speed, and mice and Loredans and even Beethoven have here been called into service. The Wingless Victory is another form of mascot, and in some cases figures of ships have played their part.

Sticks in full flight are a favorite device, and from this to the airplane is, of course, only a step.

SMACKS OF THE HOUSEHOLD

Where the speed idea is not carried out something personal to the household generally takes its place. Some people have little silver plaques of their house cut out like a house sign. A man, a woman, and a dog were arranged in a V to make the mascot for the motor. The lucky cat with her back bunched and her tail high is also a good deal used.

Everything depends upon the method of showing the device, and an attenuated, gauzy style seems in keeping with the object for which it is used.—Manchester Guardian.

ENAMELWARE

Enameled kitchenware will not stand intense heat. Once it chips off, it must be thrown away, because small particles will continue to separate and become mixed with the food.

COLORED OILCLOTH

PEASANT JUGS

Peasant jugs with quaint designs and bright colors are much in demand for milk pitchers and hot water jugs on the tea table.

CANDLES

The old problem of candles that will fall out of their holders has been solved by the invention of small rubber rings now on the market. These are slipped over the end of the candle, to anchor it fast.

STEEL BUCKLES

Cut steel buckles lead all the other shoe ornaments in popular favor. Rhinestone buckles are strictly limited to evening shoes.

PALM BEACH

Florida headwear tends toward pastel shades in small velour toques and cloches. Ornaments consisting of a single huge pearl are very good.

INGRASSE

The mixed choir of St. Joseph church is to meet at 8 o'clock Friday night at the church. This will be filled for the next fall bazaar. The ladies decided to hold social meetings on the third Thursday of each month. The next regular meeting of the society will be held Feb. 4. The hostesses are Mrs. George Wiese, Mrs. Otto Tilly, Mrs. Emery Greinke and Mrs. Edward Knecht.

THIS YEAR?

They Can't Be Shorter What Then?

A few years ago health authorities told our young women that long skirts were a danger. Trailing on the streets they stirred up dust, and dust is injurious. "Please shorten them a bit for your own sakes," was the message of the good doctors.

The women shortened them—especially this flapper generation of ours—until now they are close to the knee line. Certainly it would be a deep dust that could be stirred by the skirt hem of today. But no sooner is this accomplished than a Washington "society woman" starts a campaign to lower skirts. They ought to be around the shootet, and she proposes to bombard the world until they are.

There is just one thing in the "society woman's" favor as she starts her campaign. Skirts never remain at one length very long and in the present situation there is only about one way for them to go. The chances are that next spring or summer she can say that she has made a gain, probably an inch or two in her effort to lower the skirt hem. But she will not have been the cause, just as the good doctors were not really the cause of shortened dresses. The skirt length was shortened because woman liked the freedom that gave and now she may lengthen it because she wants a change. But if there ever was a question as to whether it is amenable to self-determination alone, it is the length of midy's skirts.

FASHION DOES NOT RECOGNIZE WOMAN'S AGE

There is no longer any need for the elderly woman of fashion to pretend to be younger than she is, for fashion no longer allows her to look as old as she is. There is no appreciable difference between the line of her frock and that of her daughter's while the old artificial aids to the restoration of a vanished youth are either rendered unnecessary by present fashions or have passed into common usage and belong no more to crabbish age than to youth. Now that most of our ailments are attributed to spite poisoning, anybody at any age may have artificial teeth, and even boast of them; while as for "making up" everybody knows that the lip-stick and the powder puffs are in most cases the accompaniment, if not the main source, of the new schoolgirl's complexion.

False hair has suffered the most complete eclipse of all the subterfuges that used to be employed in order to create a false impression of youth. No woman nowadays would dream of putting more hair on her head; her problem is rather to compress the hair she has, unless she wisely gives in at once and has it shingled. She need not even dye it; for one at least out of every three waxen heads in a hairdresser's window is now white-haired as well as croppped; and unless this means that the stress of modern life has really put gray heads on young shoulders, it must mean that advancing years are no longer considered a reason for retirement from active life, or as something to be concealed.

2 MILK DEALERS COME SHORT OF STATE STANDARD

Wisconsin Dairy Inspectors
May Prosecute Local Men on Products Under Test

Two of the 14 Appleton milk dealers, samples of whose milk were tested by state and city inspectors Wednesday, have been found to be selling milk and cream below the differential standard fixed by law.

Reports have been made by the inspectors to the state department at Madison from which action to prosecute the delinquent dealers is expected to start.

The inspection occupied a while, but two of the 21 points in Appleton could not be covered. Richard L. Radtke, state dairy inspector, worked on some of the routes, and W. E. Conway, state inspector, and Theodore Sandusky, deputy city health officer, covered the other routes. The state men were pleased with the general improvement in the test and cleanliness of milk since a year ago. This was attributed to regular inspection by the local health department, it was said, as of a higher quality than that of the average city.

Of the two dealers who were below the test, one had milk below the 3 per cent butterfat standard and one had cream below the 18 per cent standard. There could be no excuse for milk of this nature, it was pointed out. Milk and cream at this time of the year should, if anything, test even higher than in summer, as the cows are fed with more solid rations. Milk from freshened cows, however, tests lower than that of older milkers.

Patrons should not accept coffee cream for whipping cream, it was warned. The idea that whipping cream is coffee cream a day old is erroneous. The former tests from 35 per cent upwards and the latter from 15 per cent upwards.

PUPILS KEEP UP THRIFT RECORD

Columbus School Again Has Perfect Record for Bank
Deposits for Week

Columbus school again has a one hundred per cent record of depositors, according to the bank report of Appleton schools for the week ending Jan. 12. No others had perfect records but the Roosevelt and Fourth ward schools had only three pupils who did not deposit savings money this week.

Total deposit for this week amounted to $39,55, representing 2,094 depositors, and a school enrollment of 2,490, or 84 per cent of the school population saved money this week in the school savings fund. Balance on deposit is now $21,323.75.

Records of all the schools for the week follow: Columbus—203 enrolled; 205 depositors, $13.60 deposited; Franklin—208 enrolled; 204 deposited, $30.29 deposited; Fourth ward—173 enrolled; 170 depositors, $29.38 deposited; Richmond—64 enrolled; 57 depositors, $6.10 deposited; McKinley—57 enrolled; 78 depositors, $14.55 deposited; Lincoln—131 enrolled; 117 depositors, $40.25 deposited; First Ward—110 enrolled; 469 depositors, $168.10 deposited; Roosevelt—130 enrolled; 127 depositors, $99.30 deposited; Senior high school—176 enrolled; 166 depositors, $167.24 deposited.

Getting Skinnier Every Day

Something Must Be Done and Done
Right Now—Quick

Tens of thousands of thin, run down men—yes, and women too—are getting discouraged—are giving up all hope of ever being able to take on flesh and look healthy and strong.

All such people can stop worrying and start to smile and enjoy life right now for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets which any druggist will tell you all about, is putting flesh on hosts of skinny folks every day.

One woman, tired, weak and discouraged, put on 15 pounds in five weeks and now feels fine.

We all know that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitalizing flesh producing vitamins, but many people can't take it because of its horrid smell and fishy taste and because it often upsets the stomach.

McCoy's Cod Liver Compound Tablets are as easy to take as candy and if any thin person doesn't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days your druggist is authorized to give you your money back—and only 60 cents for 60 tablets. Ask Schlitz Bros. Co., Downer's Drug Store or any live pharmacist anywhere.

But be sure to get McCoy's, the original and genuine, and bear in mind that for thin, sickly kids they are wonderful—a very sickly child-age 9, gained 12 pounds in 7 months.

Appleton Girl Is Helping Blind To Help Themselves

New girls of this city graduate before they lost their sight. Our girls at the Wisconsin School for the Blind in Janesville, and of Lawrence College in Appleton, are one of the four members of the Agency for the Adult Blind, which has reached over half of the blind persons of the state by bringing happiness to the bedside of those who are invalids, rescuing others from dependency, and to bring scores of backs by which they may become self-supporting. The agency has been in operation at the state school for only a year, and is headed by the Rev. W. U. Parks, a former Congregational minister. Mr. Parks, who is almost totally blind, was called to direct the agency when it was established at the state school by the legislature, which at the time abolished the State Bureau for the Care of the Blind at Milwaukee.

Definite results from the field work instituted by the agency can be seen. Mr. Parks said. Scores of blind men and women are being visited in their homes by the four teachers employed by the agency.

There are 900 sightless persons in Wisconsin who are doing nothing, Mr. Parks said, and most of them never will be able to perform even simple tasks. "For these people we try to open up the world outside through reading," he explained. "Nearly all of them were able to read

CONQUER CONSTIPATION EASILY

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN relieves constipation because it is 100% BRAN

ALL-BRAN brought complete relief. Here's what he says:

"For fifteen years I was constantly bothered with constipation. About two years ago I tried out mixed bran and corn flakes but did not get much relief. Some eighteen months ago, I began using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I took the first week of the product. I have never had to take a dose of any laxative medicine of any description."

JAMES D. MCENERY,
R. F. D. No. 4, Alto, Texas.

Constipation is the enemy of health. The cause of more than forty diseases. Don't let this insidious trouble send its poisons through your body. Pimples, spots before the eyes, indigestion and headaches—are warning signs.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation or your money is refunded. Delicious with milk, fruit or with other cereals. Fine in cooking.

Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Michigan. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere.

WHEATON AIDS IN EFFORT TO SAVE FORESTS

Seek to Educate Forest Region Inhabitants in Fire Suppression

More extensive education of the inhabitants of the forest regions of Wisconsin in fire suppression and prevention is contemplated by the state conservation commission.

Representatives of forestry interests discussed the proposal in the offices of the commission this week. They included W. R. Wheaton, Appleton, representing the Wisconsin Forest Protective Association; O. T. Swan, Oshkosh, Northern Hardwood and Hemlock Manufacturers association, and R. G. Flanders, Oconto, Northeastern Wisconsin Loggers association.

State officials who attended the conference include C. L. Harrington, superintendent of forests; J. T. Donaghey, state highway engineer; Secretary of State Fred R. Zimmerman, and State Senator Max Heck, Racine, chairman of the legislative interim committee on taxation and administration.

WANT CONSERVATION

The conferees point out the growing concern of wood using interests of the state in the question of better forest protection as well as the growing interest of communities in upper Wisconsin. They expressed the opinion that the state should expand its efforts for forest protection, particularly in educating the public.

They said they felt the whole question should be placed before the localities affected by it, to a greater extent than heretofore, and that the county boards of supervisors should be part of the general forest protection organization.

Mr. Harrington said the commission would continue its plan of sending representatives to meet with the county boards and explain the state's program and the need for cooperation in making it effective.

Chamber of commerce letters to manufacturers will carry stickers for the next few weeks reminding industries to send their census reports to the United States bureau of census.

The chamber is assisting the federal department to induce the return of banks which have been sent out asking for statistics on manufactures. This census is compiled from the entire country every two years and has proven of inestimable value to the government and to the industries themselves.

USE CLAY MODELS
IN H. S. HERE TO TEACH DRAWING

Appleton Instructor's Methods Described in Industrial Magazine

Teaching Projection and Visualization in Mechanical Drawing is the subject of an article by R. J. Grant, teacher in mechanical drawing at Appleton high school, published in the Industrial Arts magazine for January. Mr. Grant discusses the value of using clay in problems involving visualization.

Illustrations for the article include a picture of two Appleton boys cutting clay models of drawings on the blackboard and two models made at the local school. Mr. Grant has written many of the same type of stories for publication and is now working on more. The Industrial Arts magazine is one of the largest industrial magazines in Wisconsin.

Mr. Grant does not fall into the errors of "some of the so-called 'educators'" by ceasing "what is ailing with our teaching but quite always failing to give a prescription for a cure," he said. He explains and illustrates the difficulties of students in visualizing orthographic drawing, and discusses his methods of combating the difficulty. This is done by having each pupil "work from his drawing, to construct in the clay in body form the object which those orthographic views represent. Right here the student associates the drawing with the model, and starts the visualization which we are to develop."

WAUWATOSA GIRL IS ADDED TO H. S. FACULTY

Miss Audrey Poote, Wauwatosa, has been engaged to teach in the English department of the Roosevelt Junior high school next semester. A graduate of Milwaukee State Normal school and the University of Wisconsin, Miss Poote comes here highly recommended, according to Superintendent Ben J. Rohan. The vacancy occurred at the resignation of Miss Dorothy Husband, who has been teaching in the English department of the Senior high school for two and a half years and will be married in May. Miss Hilda Eller of the Roosevelt school faculty will take Miss Husband's place, and Miss Poote will take Miss Eller's classes.

SIX STUDENTS ENTER
HEISS SPEECH CONTEST

Six names have been entered for the William Heiss oratorical contest on Feb. 24 at the Senior high school auditorium. John Catlin, Andrews Montgomery, Robert Wolf, Carl Nelson, Frederick Rector and Edward Blodgett have entered.

The contest is sponsored by the class of 1916 in honor of a classmate who died in France during the World war and for whom it is named. A medal is presented to the winner, and he is also the high school representative in the Fox River Valley District Oratorical contest to be held here in April. Schools from as far north as Marinette and as far south as Fond du Lac will compete in the event.

Appleton contestants are being coached by Miss Margaret Sherman of the English department.

BETTER PROTECTION BY POLICE, AIM OF CLUBS

Better police protection in Wisconsin cities, promotion of the St. Lawrence waterway, and fostering better business bureaus will be the aims of Wisconsin Associations of Commerce this year, according to the discussions of secretaries of the associations at the midwinter meeting of the Wisconsin Association of Commercial Secretaries at Milwaukee.

Investigation of two ways of securing better police protection were considered: To form a group of vigilantes and to authorize a body of state police. A bill probably will be introduced at the next legislature, after the investigations have been made, to establish state police.

A last big effort is being made by workers on the new Pythian Castle on Lawrence street to have the building ready for the opening on Feb. 10. The back rooms have been completed for some time, and meetings of the lodges are being held in the dining room in the basement. Plasterers were expected to finish their part of the work by Thursday night, leaving only the laying of hard wood floors in the front rooms of the Castle, sanding and waxing the judge room floor, laying carpets, putting in casings, and finishing. Thursday, Feb. 11, a banquet and ball is scheduled to take place at the Castle, and the following night the new home of the lodge will be formally dedicated. In the spring, when the weather is warmer, the old red paint will be removed and the whole building painted a light color, either cream or gray.

Highway Commission Prepares Maps to Show How County Roads Connect

Study of the trunk highways of Outagamie co. which connect with those in the adjoining counties and a discussion on the connections, occupied the entire day for members of the highway commissions of six counties Wednesday at the office of A. G. Brusewitz, Outagamie co. commissioner. Counties represented were Brown, Shawano, Winnebago, Waupaca, Calumet and Outagamie.

It was discovered that every one of the connecting trunk highways of the county joined a highway in an adjoining county and a map was prepared to be sent to the state highway commission at Madison. The state commission recently ruled that the highways must connect. Uniform lettering for highways which connect in the several counties will be taken up at another meeting in the spring.

TWO YOUNGSTERS GET CHANCE IN FRIDAY'S GAME

McFadden and Welch Groomed to Succeed Kilgas on Caging Squad

Kaukauna—With either Jimmy McFadden or Gordy Welsh starting their first game of the season at a forward position in the place of the veteran Wally Kilgas, Coach Tige Bill Smith's Kaukauna high school caging squad will meet its stiffer opposition of the season here Friday night, when the crack Clintonville highs invade the Electric city for the last home game for Bill's crew. Coach Smith's new combination surely will receive a test of the highest sort as Clintonville boasts of a record for 1926 of six wins without a single loss.

The Kaukauna will start with either Welsh or McFadden at one forward, and McFadden at the other, Boyd at center and Capt. Gehrig and Farwell at guards. Farwell and Gehrig present a neat pair of guards. Both can dribble and shoot as well as defend their goal and both are of the fast, husky type. Both McFadden and Welsh will get a chance to show their stuff before the game is over, in preparation for the long out-of-town schedule facing the Tigers.

The boys went through a hard practice Thursday afternoon working on methods of breaking through both a five-man and man to man defense, and then scrimmaged the seconds for a time. Though their shooting eye was a trifle off, it always is there when needed in a game.

A large crowd is expected to see the Kaws in action in their last home tilt. Warren Wright of Appleton high school will referee the tilt.

NO PAPERMAKING COURSE IN SCHOOL THIS YEAR

Kaukauna—Kaukauna vocational school does not plan to add the papermaking course, which will be given by an itinerant teacher, to its course more this school year, according to A. T. Hudson, director. Though some of the other schools of the valley may start it, it is definitely decided here to wait until next fall. The new instructor is visiting in Kaukauna and he will spend considerable time here in research work and in lining up the course for next year. He will give the local situation a thorough study before making a report and he expects to be able to have a valuable course lined up.

HAGMAN SPEAKS AT P-T CLUB MEETING

Kaukauna—W. P. Hagman, director of the county rural normal school, spoke to a large group at a meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association of Ellington school Thursday evening. Mr. Hagman spoke on Community Cooperation. Miss William Klumb, teacher of the school.

VOCATIONAL BOYS TO START BASKETBALL TEAM

Kaukauna—Boys of Kaukauna vocational school are preparing to launch a basketball team upon the cage floor. Interest in the sport had been growing at the school for some time and prospective players are signing up for tryouts. Among those signed to date are Ike Solberg, Matthew Jaekels, Harold Hurst, Harvey Rechel, Carl Trettem, Norbert Gartz and Harold Giesbers.

PORTER BOOK IS MOST POPULAR IN LIBRARY

Kaukauna—Keeper of the Bees by Gene Stratton Porter is the most popular book at the Kaukauna public library at present. Dozens of calls have come in for the Porter book. The style of the author is credited with the book's popularity by the librarians.

CALUMET PHONE COMPANY LOSES CASE IN COURT

Objections to Invasion of Territory by Stockbridge Line Are Overruled

Special to Post-Crescent
Forest Junction—The objections of the Calumet Telephone company of this place to the invasion of its territory on the military road in the town of Woodville were overruled in a decision handed down by the railroad commission.

In consequence, the Stockbridge & Sherwood Telephone company will extend its line to the Wrensch cheese factory, and the local company will lose one subscriber for the present. The factory, four miles from here, and about three miles from Sherwood, has its business relations with the latter village and desired telephone service from there in preference to that now given by the local company. A hearing was given the matter by the railroad commission resulting in the ruling favorable to the Sherwood line on the grounds of public convenience.

John Steinbach, Jr., vice president of the Calumet Telephone company, was promoted to the presidency at the annual meeting here on Tuesday afternoon.

John Loeter, hitherto president, was retired to the position of vice president. M. P. Wischman, who was elected to fill an unexpired term as director, will serve as secretary and Manrow Schubring will continue as manager.

BIG SHIPMENTS

More than 1,200 head of livestock in 21 shipments and representing an aggregate value of over $21,000 were handled by the Forest Jet Shipping Association last year according to the report given at the annual meeting here Thursday afternoon. Though the association is organized for mutual service rather than financial gain, the transactions for 1925, nevertheless, netted a profit of $59.46.

Officers of the association elected for the year are John Seybold, president; Richard Huebler, vice president; John Estellenbach, Jr., secretary; Robert Hacker, treasurer and shipping manager; Carl Helm, director.

Mrs. H. A. Franzke, attaining her fiftieth birthday anniversary on Wednesday, celebrated the event by entertaining the members of the Open Door Bible class of the local Evangelical Sunday school at her home in the afternoon.

The class, consisting of adult women of which Mrs. Franzke is teacher, can be well referred to as one of her own products, for it was not in existence when she arrived here with her husband, the Rev. H. A. Franzke, from Seymour nearly two years ago. The class now has approximately 20 members.

HORTON AGAIN IS ELECTED HEAD OF SUNDAY SCHOOL

Mrs. G. H. Packard Honored as She Retires from Superintendency

Lacey Horton was reelected superintendent of the Sunday school at the annual business meeting of the Congregational church which preceded a banquet at 615 Thursday night at the church. About 200 Congregationalists were present at the banquet which was prepared by the social committee and served by the Baratz boys. Mrs. R. W. Getschow was chairman of the social committee.

Cyrus Boyer was elected junior superintendent of the Sunday school; Mrs. Earl Baker, primary superintendent; Mrs. Joseph Kofford, Jr., superintendent of the Beginners department; Mrs. Irene Buxton, superintendent of the Cradle roll and Miss Flora Kethorne, superintendent of the Home department. The trustees include G. E. Rothman, F. M. Johnston, Gust Marston, Mrs. A. F. Tuttle and H. C. Humphrey; cabinet members, Mrs. James Reeve, Mrs. Irene Buxton and Eric Madison and deacons, F. J. Harwood and R. F. Goodrich. Deaconesses elected were Mrs. P. I. Bixby, Mrs. F. Letts, Mrs. Edward Fraser, Mrs. A. A. Wettenberg, Mrs. Wilson Patterson, Mrs. Inez Gurnee, Mrs. A. H. Wickesberg, Mrs. H. C. Humphrey, Mrs. E. Louise Ellis, Miss Helen Schmidt, Mrs. Cavert, Mrs. F. Zschaechner.

Mrs. George H. Packard, retiring superintendent of the Intermediate department of the Sunday school, was presented with a set of Dickens' works for the faithful work she had done during the past 15 years. Dr. Peabody, in a short address said of Mrs. Packard: "She has been a leading member of the cabinet of the whole school and has been a real pastor to the hundreds of boys and girls who have been under her care." He stated that there was no other officer in the school who knew so many of the pupils by name as did Mrs. Packard.

P. J. Harwood, moderator of the national council, presided at the banquet and business meeting. The annual report was given by Elmer H. Jennings, treasurer and the board of trustees presented the budget. A vocal number was given by Melvin Look of Kaukauna and a marionette show, "Jack and the Giant Killer," was given by a girls' club from the Appleton Womans club under the direction of Miss Elfrieda Stephenson. Short talks were given by several members of the congregation including Max Elias and C. Willard Cross.

The board of directors of Appleton Chamber of Commerce will have as guests at dinner in the Conway hotel at 6:30 Friday evening two distinguished officials of the national chamber. They are William Butterworth, vice president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and John N. Van der Vlies, manager of the Chicago office of the national organization. All the past directors of the local chamber and other business men have been asked to be present. The speakers will talk on business conditions in America and Europe.

LUTHERAN KEGLERS WIN SERIES FROM BANKERS

Although First National Bank bowlers were victorious in the final contest of their annual seven game series with the Aid Association for Lutheran keglers, Thursday evening on the Lutheran alleys, the Lutheran quintet topped the series by the narrow margin of 49 pins. The Lutherans won four games and the bankers took three. The bank crew took the final tilt by 36 pins, but lacked the punch to roll a big enough score to overcome the lead held by the Lutherans. The Lutheran bowlers were Louis Freude, Walter Voeks, Earl Kraemer, Martha Lueckel and Selma Gruett, and the bankers team consisted of Clyde Schwerbel, John Wissman, Arnold Welsh, Helen Hawley and Eleanor Patzer.

SEEKS TRAVELERS AID IN APPLETON

Milwaukee Woman Sounding Out Sentiment for Support of Destitute Strangers

Mrs. Angeline Davidson, Milwaukee, a representative of the Travelers Aid society, is in Appleton trying to interest local persons identified with welfare work in the activities of her society.

So far the organization has received support from Milwaukee through its joint community fund drive, but since 95 per cent of the society's cases originate outside of Milwaukee, the argument has been made that other cities ought to give some help.

The society is now handling about 14 Appleton cases. The work has to do with befriending strange girls coming to the city for work, monitoring runaways and helping destitute strangers. The amount asked of Appleton is approximately $200. While Mrs. Davidson learned about the movement on foot here to inaugurate a community fund and it is possible she will present her case to the committee that is fostering the movement.

MILK SHIPPERS PLAN TO MEET CHICAGO ORDINANCE

Cream and milk dealers of the Fox river valley met for a luncheon at the Conway hotel Wednesday noon to discuss the problem of supplying Chicago dealers with tuberculin test milk. Representatives of the Chicago firms were guests of the valley men. An ordinance will go into effect on April first at Chicago to permit only tuberculin tested milk to be sold in the city, and the meeting Wednesday was to make plans for helping supply Chicago with milk and cream which will meet with the requirements of the ordinance.

WISCONSIN WEATHER

Fair and continued cold tonight; Saturday probably fair with slowly rising temperature.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

A high pressure area and cold wave is spreading rapidly into the southern and eastern states. Freezing temperatures are recorded this morning almost to the south Atlantic and Gulf coast, and zero into the middle Mississippi valley. A low pressure area skirting the eastern front of the cold wave has caused rains or snows over most of the eastern half of the country during the past 24 hours. The cold wave will continue in this section tonight, but lower pressure appearing in the far northwest promises a slight moderation by Saturday afternoon or night. Generally fair weather is anticipated over Saturday.

BABY HEALTH IS IMPROVED AFTER CLINICAL TESTS

Examining Physician Notes Improvement in Children Attending Frequent Clinics

The baby clinic sponsored by the Appleton Women's Club Wednesday and Thursday was generally satisfactory although not as many children were taken to the clubhouse as to former clinics, according to Mrs. Homer Benton, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. A second clinic will be held on Feb. 16 and 17 and the committees urge all mothers to take their babies to the club that they may be advised by Dr. Sylvia Stuessy, the examining physician sent here by the state board of health.

Malnutrition was the most prevalent defect, as always, this was in most cases in the very young infants. A few skin diseases were found, and the usual cases of tonsils and adenoids.

Two children who have been at each of the eight or ten clinics sponsored by the Womans Club attended and Dr. Stuessy found that they had received much benefit from treatment following the clinical examinations. Several other returned cases were examined. Miss Florence Whipple, city nurse, will do the follow up work for children who are not able to afford medical care.

Dr. Stuessy was assisted by Miss Whipple and Miss Marie Klein, county nurse. The committee in charge included Mrs. Benton, chairman; Mrs. A. G. Meating, vice chairman; and Mrs. C. O. Gochauer, Mrs. G. W. Carlson, Mrs. S. Louise Ellis, Mrs. H. W. Russell, Mrs. George Nixon, Mrs. Robert Hahn and Miss Jane Barclay.

Frances Rupple, who is employed at Oshkosh, spent the weekend at her home here.

Gertrude Gast who is employed at Appleton and spent last week here resumed her position this week.

Donald Rupple spent Saturday at Appleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kroek were at Appleton Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harland Grant visited Appleton Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Draheim were Appleton visitors Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Krock and children attended a party at the William Rosenthal home at Hortonville Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Langmann and Mrs. M. Lesselyong were at Appleton Tuesday.

Miss Carolyn Flunker shopped at Appleton Tuesday.

Gordon Siebert returned to work at Oshkosh after a week's vacation.

HOFFMAN SENT TO REFORMATORY FOR FIVE YEARS

Final Audit of Fountain Lumber Co. Books Shows Shortage of $17,000

Louis A. Hoffman, 1702 W. Spencer-st., former bookkeeper for the J. Fountain Lumber Co., was sentenced to an indeterminate term of from five to seven years in the Green Bay reformatory Friday morning in municipal court when he entered a plea of guilty to the charge of embezzling $12,864.66 from the lumber company. The young man was arrested on Oct. 26, 1925, and his trial had been postponed from time to time while an audit of the books was being made. Altogether Hoffman has spent about three months in the county jail awaiting trial. He will be taken to Green Bay Saturday morning to begin his sentence by Sheriff P. G. Schwartz.

At first Hoffman was charged with embezzling $12,864.66 between Sept. 15, 1924 and Oct. 20, 1925 but it later was discovered that the theft took place at various times for six years, starting in 1920 and continuing through 1921, 1922, 1923, 1924 and 1925. The final audit showed a shortage of about $17,000, but Hoffman refused to plead guilty to the theft of any more than the original charge. However, embezzlement of any sum from $10,000 to $25,000 carries the same sentence.

SECOND CONCERT AT ROOSEVELT JUNIOR SCHOOL

Lions Club Members and High School Students Sell Tickets to Series

Roosevelt Junior high school will give the second concert in the series sponsored by the Lions club on Jan. 26, 27 and 28 at the auditoriums of the Wilson, Roosevelt and McKinley schools, respectively. Wednesday, Jan. 27 is the date for the Roosevelt entertainment when the Roosevelt girls glee club, boys glee club, dramatic club, girls gym classes, and the bugle and drum corps will be assisted by the Senior high school band and orchestra under the direction of Carl McKee.

Miss Hilda Eller is the director of the play, "The Mouse Trap," to be played by the dramatic club of Roosevelt school, and Miss Irene Bidwell directs the songs given by the Girls Glee club. The bugle and drum corps is conducted by Edward Munn, director of the 120th Artillery band.

This series of concerts was planned to raise money to pay for new uniforms for the Senior high school band this year, and for instruments required for the bugle and drum corps of the Junior high schools. The Lions club is paying for all advertising and other expenses involved in launching these concerts, so that the entire receipts from the sale of tickets will be used for the supplies of the school musical organizations.

Members of the club and students are selling tickets. Prizes are offered to the students who sell the most tickets. All the organizations performing in this series are competent in their work, and it will not be a cheap amateur performance.

The program:

- Appleton High School Band, Carl McKee—Director.
- (1) March—The Royal Escort, Kiefer.
- (2) Overture — The Iron Count, King.
- (3) Sparks—Edward Steenis and Wm. Meyer.

CREDITORS WILL GET NOTHING FROM BANKRUPT

Because only the claims of secured creditors of Walter Peters, Hortonville bankrupt, can be paid it was not found necessary to appoint a trustee at the hearing of creditors Thursday afternoon at the office of C. E. Behnke, referee. Practically all of Mr. Peters' property is mortgaged, and when claims of the mortgage holders are met nothing will be left for the general creditors. The property will revert to the bankrupt, and the mortgages will be foreclosed. Mr. Peters, who was the operator of the Hortonville Bottling works filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy Jan. 5. His liabilities were listed at $1,234.25, and his assets at $8,360.

TRIANGLE CLUB STILL HOPES FOR SLEIGHRIDE

Friends of members of the Sophomore Triangle club of the Y. M. C. A. are contemplating reuniting the group the Optimists club because of a decision made at the regular meeting Thursday evening at the association building. The club members still want their sleighride, which has been postponed a number of times this year because of the warm weather and they have decided to hold it Thursday evening if weather conditions are favorable. If it is not held then, it will be held later, if possible, so determined are the boys.

Reports of the World Outpost campaign sponsored in Appleton by the club also were completed and the total money contributed in this city Y. M. C. A. work with boys of foreign lands was checked up. The final report will be issued later. Other routine business matters concluded the meeting.

RECTOR IS ELECTED GOLF CLUB PRESIDENT

Dr. A. E. Rector of Appleton was elected president of Riverview Country club at the annual meeting of members in Guild hall of All Saints Episcopal church. John Bergstrom of Neenah was elected vice president, and William Rounds of Appleton was chosen secretary and treasurer. Dr. L. H. Moore of Appleton and Richard Thieken of Neenah were elected directors for two years.

Social plans for the 1926 season were discussed and tentatively outlined. The matter of improvement of the grounds was discussed.

DALE MAN GIVEN SIX MONTHS BY U. S. COURT

George Brooks of Dale was among the Outagamie-co residents who this week received sentences in United States district court at Milwaukee for violation of the national prohibition laws. Brooks was sentenced to six months in the house of corrections at Milwaukee. His establishment was not raided, but some time last summer federal prohibition enforcement agents visited it and purchased drinks there, it was charged.

They'll help her to become the capable, wise housewife she wants so much to be. They'll tell her what clothes are best and what prices to pay for them. They'll tell her about the foods to buy, the electric appliances, the linoleums and draperies. They'll help her, as the advertisements in this newspaper can help her.

And she'll meet her responsibilities and fulfill her duties easily and well. She won't become a tired, flustered, inefficient drudge. Because her home will be modern, attractive, well-run, she'll keep young—through the speedy years she'll retain much of that shining-eyed, merry freshness. She and the "boy friend."

LITTLE HARD COAL IS LEFT IN OUTAGAMIE-CO

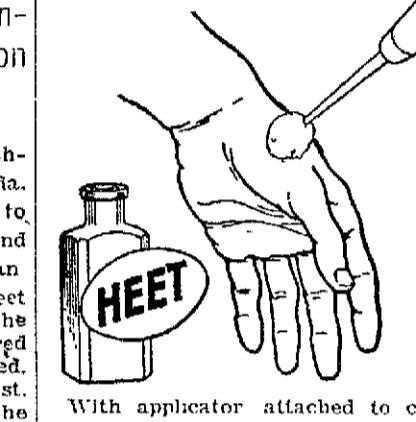

Appleton is the only community in Outagamie-co where hard coal still exists according to word received from local fuel dealers. The villages in the northern and western sections of the county have been out of anthracite coal for several months, and in the last two or three weeks Kaukauna and Little Chute used the last of their supply. Dealers in various cities and towns in the county have been getting small allotments of coal from Appleton dealers. Several dealers here have sold their supply, and it is only a question of a few weeks when the entire country will be burning soft coal it was said.

The long continued anthracite miners strike has made it impossible for hard coal to reach Appleton this winter. Even if the strike ends immediately it would take from six weeks to two months for coal shipments to reach here, it was said.

W. J. J. Schroeder of Grand Chute is improving the appearance of his farm by cutting a number of shade trees. Joseph Gainor of Mackville has added a sun porch to his hotel.

PAIN, NEURITIS, ACHING JOINTS

"Heet" Relieves Instantly

With applicator attached to cork, just brush "Heet" over the pain area, whether in knees, feet, legs, hands, shoulders, back, neck or body. Instantly, you feel this harmless, glorious, penetrating heat draw the pain soreness and stiffness right out of the aching or swollen joint, muscle or nerve. Besides, "Heet" scatters the congestion and establishes a cure.

"Heet" contains two soothing, penetrating ingredients, too expensive to use in ordinary liniments or analgesics. "Heet" is a clean, pleasant liquid, doesn't stain, blister or irritate the skin and costs only 60 cents at any drug store.

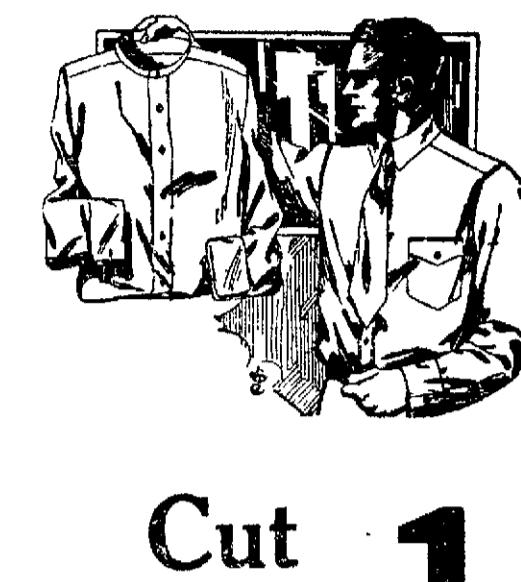

In neckband style with no pocket and French cuffs; also collar-attached style with one flap, button pockets and single-button cuffs.

Colors are plain white, blue and pongee. Plain colors are so much in demand and we recommend these as very good values.

"Me and the boy friend"

You know them, bless their hearts. A pair of youngsters, really, in spite of their self-reliant air and their fast-vanishing teens. The girl—slim, clear-eyed, merry; the boy—flippant, a bit arrogant, full of secret, earnest plans for success.

They like each other. They go to the movies together, dance, quarrel a bit. They don't believe in early marriages. But her eyes shine when she speaks of him. "Me and the boy friend."

One of these days, suddenly, they'll be grown up. Man and wife, those fearless youngsters. A home to plan, life to face. A budget, a savings account, economies.

They'll make mistakes, but they'll learn quickly. She'll begin to be canny in the spending of money—to question prices and values. She'll begin to read about the things she plans to buy, to find out all she can about them. She'll become a regular reader of advertisements.

They'll help her to become the capable, wise housewife she wants so much to be. They'll tell her what clothes are best and what prices to pay for them. Women of Neenah and Menasha Legion Posts Hold Joint Session

Menasha—The joint meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Henry J. Lenz post of the American Legion of Menasha and that of the James P. Hawley post of Neenah at S. A. Cook armory Thursday evening was well attended.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Frank Smith, president of the Henry J. Lenz auxiliary, who turned it over to Mrs. Greenwood of Neenah, president of the James P. Hawley auxiliary.

The principal speakers were Mrs. Hart, state president of the Ladies Auxiliaries, and Mrs. McCauley, national poppy chairman. The former talked on the good work the auxiliaries are doing, stressing particularly that of rehabilitation. The latter discussed the poppy program emphasizing the importance of the work. Each was presented with a corsage bouquet.

Menasha Ukelele club rendered several selections; Mrs. A. Ritter of Neenah gave a reading; Miss Eleanor Clough and Miss Beatrice Hyson gave vocal solos; and Miss Edna Hercher a piano solo. Lunch was served.

HAS MINIATURE
LEMON ORCHARD

Menasha—Miss Mary Walburn, 724 Taycosh, has an exhibition at Edmund Liebhauer's grocery store on Racine-st, where she is employed, a lemon weighing nine ounces. It was grown on a tree now six years old. The lemon is perfect in form and is much larger than those on sale in grocery stores.

It is from a last spring blossom and has been ripening since August. The tree is about 18 inches high and has two branches. A third branch was broken off by the weight of a lemon more than a year ago. While the tree blossoms every few months it is only occasionally that the lemons mature. Fresh blossoms are exhibited with the lemon.

NEENAH
PERSONALS

Neenah—Charles Klinke is spending a few days with relatives in Fond du Lac.

Mayor George Sande spent Thursday in Milwaukee at the auto show. Mrs. O. M. Denninger who was in the city to attend the funeral of Miss Margaret Hardt, has returned to her home in Milwaukee.

"Men who have never had any inclination to join a lodge, are finding reasons to join the Eagles. Thousands of young men are joining because there is no place else where they can spend so few dollars for a never failing supply of friends and good times and get the money back on the first rainy day. Married men and fathers of families are turning to the Eagles because of its protective attitude toward the home, and because of its excellent plan of life insurance. Workmen by the hundred thousand belong because his order has been in the past a potent advocate of workmen's compensation and mothers pensions and is now back of the old age pensions."

"Business men and employers, in increasing numbers, are joining because of the business and professional advantage in having a wide acquaintance in all circles, and because, as employers, they are beginning to recognize the justice of pensioning the worker who has grown too old and who has never been paid enough to allow him to save for a jobless old age."

The speaker reported that there were 600,000 members in 1,700 Aeries in all parts of the country. The first Aerie was instituted in Seattle, Wash., in 1898. He talked at length on the sick benefits afforded by the Eagle organization, the old age pension act and the mothers' pension. "The benefit fund that protects the sick Eagle, he continued, "is rigidly safeguarded. Our laws specify that a certain percentage of the dues must go into the benefit fund. These laws require further that the benefit fund can be used for no other purpose than the payment of sick and death benefits, except it be invested in securities that can quickly be converted into full cash value."

"Since its organization 27 years ago," the jibber said, "there has been paid out in sick benefits to our members $27,153,538. For funeral benefits $5,281,983, and for medical services $8,610,727, a total of $41,046,259."

"The most pitiful plight in life," the speaker stated in explaining the Old Age pension movement, "is to be old and without funds. The poorhouse looks for more than two million workers who never have been paid more than enough to meet the simplest daily needs and who, as they approach 45, 55, 65, see the door of the factory, the shop, and the office closing inch by inch on their fear drawn faces."

The Wimodauisus club held its weekly card party Thursday afternoon. Bridge was played and the honors were won by Mrs. C. B. Hutchins and Mrs. George Sutton. The hostesses were Mrs. W. G. Trilling, Mrs. A. F. Wille, Mrs. W. L. Wheeler and Mrs. L. L. Whitmore.

BERGSTROM TEAM WINS

BEGIN HERE TODAY
BARBARA HAWLEY 25, breaks with her fiance, BRUCE REYNOLDS, and gets a job on the Appleton Telegraph, in order to see life.

ANDREW McDERMOTT, the managing editor, is a former friend of her father, BOB JEFFRIES, police reporter, proves friendly.

Barbara attends a newspaper dinner at the Lighthouse Inn with SINBAD SULLIVAN, a press agent. There she meets JEROME BALL, a man about town.

The sound of a shot comes from an inner room in the roadhouse.

NORMAN HOLLOWELL, a prominent broker was found dead in the room. A suicide note was in his pocket. A doctor said it was a clear case of suicide, that Hollowell was alone in the room at the time, but Barbara finds a woman's scarf under the table and gets a "scoop" on the story.

She is sent to interview MRS. LYDIA STACY, a prominent society woman, on the real estate project by Bruce's firm.

While there Mrs. Stacy's maid reveals she has sent a dress to the cleaners to have a wine stain removed. She wonders if the wine-stained dress has any connection with the roadhouse shooting of Hollowell and goes back to the office to examine again the woman's scarf she found after his death.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVII

Barbara stared at the strip of red silk. As Bob Jeffries approached, she thrust it back into the drawer hurriedly.

"What are you hiding there, Barbara, the evidence of crime?"

Barbara smiled. "That guess is not as wild as you think, perhaps. What have they learned about the woman who was with Hollowell in the roadhouse last night?"

"Not a thing, except that she left before the shot that killed him. The police have practically dropped the search for her. There seems no doubt that it was suicide."

"What would you do about it, Bob, if you thought you knew who she was?"

"That depends. Maybe I wouldn't try to find out for sure, if she was a decent sort and would be ruined by the scandal. But if I didn't it would prove I wasn't much of a newspaper man, I suppose." Bob took a long pull on his pipe.

"And if I did, maybe it would prove I wasn't much of a man at all, so there you are. But come on out and have a cup of tea with me. You look as if you need it."

"Much obliged, Bob, but I've an interview to write before closing time. You'll have to run along alone."

When he was gone, she examined the sash again. She put it in a large manila folder and sealed it carefully, before burying it beneath the contents of the lowest drawer.

Night was closing in. Someone snapped on the electric lights in the Telegraph office and drew the blinds, shutting out the winter gloom.

Barbara made ready to go home. As she was closing her desk, McDermott came out of his office. "How was the interview with Mrs. Stacy?" he asked.

"It was already made when I got there," answered Barbara. "I thought so," he smiled. "And I'll bet it does justice to Lydia Stacy, too. That woman has the makings of a great statesman or a great criminal."

He went on through to the composing room. "Telephone, Miss Hawley," called the operator.

Barbara answered listlessly. It was an unfamiliar voice at the other end of the wire. "Hello there, little daffodil. How's the world treating you after the big night?"

Barbara was silent a moment. "Is this Mr. Ball?" she asked.

"Nobody else but. Just called up to see what became of you in the melee last night. I looked everywhere for you after the shot. But you were gone. Terribly worried about you all night."

"Nonsense," said Barbara. "If the truth were told, it would be that you glanced about, didn't see me, and went home quite peacefully to a night of calm slumber."

"You do me wrong," Jerome's voice was bantering. "I've thought of you all day. How did you get home last night? I suppose your prima donna singing among the chrysanthemums was worse than useless to you."

"I'd rather not talk about that, please," said Barbara.

"Honestly, Miss Hawley, I do feel mighty sorry about last night. Won't you believe me and come along to dinner with me at the Coffee Shop? It's a fine night for a twosome dinner. All wet outside and bright lights inside--pleasant conversation."

Barbara thought a moment. Then she replied, "Yes, I'd love to. But you'll have to call for me at home, Mr. Ball. I must go home to dress."

"I'll ring the doorbell at seven then so long."

Jerome was punctual. His blue roadster appeared in a burst of speed just as Barbara looked out of her window. She jumped back and let the curtains fall.

When she ran down the steps with her coat over her arm, she found him pacing the hall and smoking a cigarette in a long yellow holder.

"The daffodil again," he greeted her.

Barbara looked down at her dress and blushed. It was the same that she had worn the night before.

"I like you in yellow," said Jerome smoothly eying her from head to foot.

"All fresh and sunny and young."

Barbara looked at him quickly.

"That's a different kind of compliment from the ones I've had lately."

I've been feeling as old as Methuselah."

Later, over the lobster cocktail he revived the subject.

"I asked you the other night how you happened to be in the newspaper game, Miss Hawley. I didn't mean to offend you, but it is a shock to find a girl like you doing that work. You seem so young and unspoiled by the rough edges of things--and such a lady! Women like you haven't any business fighting the business world. You were made for other things."

Barbara flushed, but not wholly with anger. "If you're trying to flatter me, Mr. Ball, I'm afraid you're not succeeding. The newspaper game is the only thing in the world that I care about."

Jerome leaned across the table and put his hand on hers. "That's a rash thing to say, my dear." His voice was suave. "Promise me you'll not get like these sour ladies one sees around in offices--all business and horn-rimmed glasses and bad temper. Promise me you will stay your own sweet self."

Barbara glanced at him from beneath lowered eyelids. "Why should you care whether I stay myself or get horn-rimmed glasses?"

Jerome did not reply. He looked scanning the menu card.

After dinner they danced. Admiring glances followed them about the room, and Barbara saw several women watching Jerome's steps with more than casual interest.

She became more content and more daring. "You dance so wonderfully, Mr. Ball, that the whole room is watching us."

Jerome slightly shrugged his shoulders. "Why all the formality? Call me Jerome." He did an extra pivot that left his partner breathless.

She was laughing softly, with a light in her eyes. "I believe you are right. Women are not made for work," she said. "I think I was made for play. At least I'm having a gorgeous time tonight."

"And for love," added Jerome, holding her closer.

Barbara pulled away. But his eyes smiled down at her.

At eleven o'clock they were in the blue roadster again, spinning through the downtown streets. When they had left the business section, Jerome swung his car toward Little Chute road.

"This isn't the way home," said Barbara.

Jerome did not reply. He looked down at her smilingly.

The country was a symphony in grays, where the moonlight struck the snow. The purr of the engine was the only sound for miles.

Barbara snuggled down under the heavy robes and sat quite still.

"Happy, honey?" asked Jerome.

She started. "Yes, happier than for a long time."

He drew her arm through his. When they had reached a cross roads, he suddenly stopped the car. Barbara shivered slightly. "You are a beautiful girl, my dear," he said.

Something in his voice brought Barbara back from the dreamy contentment in which she had been riding. She cast a frightened glance at his face, which was bent close over her. "Let's go home, please. I am getting tired and there's a long day ahead."

Without a word, he reached for the gear shift and the car swung into a curve back toward town. Both Barbara and Jerome were silent all the way in.

Barbara saw that they were on the street on which Mrs. Hadley's boarding house was located. When they neared the block in which it stood, she turned her head toward the other side of the street. The exhilaration of the early evening had gone out.

"I'll give you a ring sometime," said Jerome as he opened the door for her. His voice was casual.

A week later Barbara was called into McDermott's office. "More signs of life from Lydia," he said. "She seems to have decided to meet us more than half way."

"What is it now?" asked Barbara.

"We had a call from her this morning, saying she was flinging a reception for this chap Gignelli, who is coming to town to address the Women's Civic Progressive League. He intends to babble about Italian architecture. I think, and Lydia means to cash in on his visit. Seems she met him in Paris last summer."

"Just like Lydia. Can't let a lion run around without trying to tame him. This affair will be the biggest one of the season, for when Lydia gives a party, she gives a good one. This time, she has asked all the architects and big real estate men and public-spirited citizens in Appleton.

Barbara was listening intently. McDermott concluded, "Lydia wants you to cover the party. Said so this morning."

"Oh, no, I'd rather not." Barbara caught McDermott looking shrewdly at her. "Any reason?" he asked coolly.

Barbara realized her error. "Oh no, I'll go, of course. When is it?"

"On Saturday night. Better wear your best bib and tucker."

PICKS OFFICERS

Wrightstown Storekeepers Decide to Close Up on Most Evenings

Special to Post-Crescent
Wrightstown — The stockholders of the Fox River Valley Silver Fox Co. held their annual meeting at the Remmel office and elected the following officers: President, Charles Schroeder, Jr.; vice president, Gustave Zittel; secretary and treasurer, Dr. E. A. Titel; manager, Chris Scherz; directors, Charles Schroeder, Jr., Gustave Zittel, E. A. Titel, Chris Scherz, J. H. Van Vreden, Ed Behig and Ulan B. Remmel.

The general stores of the village will be closed every evening with the exception of Tuesday and Saturday, commencing this week. The amount of business transacted in the evening during January and February does not warrant the expense of light, fuel and time, and the merchants will likewise welcome a chance to spend a few evenings at home.

The Ladies Aid society of St. John Lutheran church held its annual meeting and all officers were elected as follows: President, Rev. F. C. Uzemann; vice president, Mrs. F. C. Uzemann; secretary, Mrs. Rudolph Zittel; treasurer, Mrs. M. Meyer.

Reports of the secretary and treasurer showed 1925 a successful year financially. One new member joined at the Jan. meeting and three were announced for membership to join in February. It was decided to observe the twentieth anniversary on Jan. 21 in the basement of the church. On Feb. 3 the society will hold their meeting in the school.

The Christian Mothers' society of the St. Paul church elected the following officers for 1926: Mrs. Frank Vanderheiden, president; Mrs. T. E. Gleason, vice president; Mrs. T. A. Jacobs, secretary, and Mrs. Frank Elmer, treasurer.

The Catholic Knights of Wisconsin were to initiate a class of 50 new members Sunday afternoon, Jan. 24 at the church auditorium.

Robert Biebel, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Biebel came home Saturday morning from St. Vincent hospital Green Bay in an ambulance. Robert recently broke his leg while coasting.

The "Cheerful Workers" society elected the following officers for 1926: Luella M. Scheibe, president; Hazel M. Zuehlke, vice president; Viola M. Krueger, secretary and Gerhard A. Pfleuger, treasurer. The literary committee sponsored a program on Friday afternoon.

Pupils in perfect attendance for the first half of the school year ending Friday Jan. 15 are: Ervin E. Maves, Gerhard A. Pfleuger, James P. McCabe, Martin J. Waller and Eleanor A. Langbecker, Beatrice H. Schmidler, Luella M. Scheibe, Viola M. Krueger, Wilmer, Vitolla and Leona Meuke, Richard C. Carroll, Verina M. Zuehlke, Mabel Geysa and Mercedes Coontay.

SEYMOUR H. S. TO PRESENT COMEDY

The Love Pirate of Hawaii, Will Be Given in Auditorium Tuesday Evening

Seymour—The Seymour high school glee clubs will present, at the Seymour auditorium, Tuesday, Jan. 26, a musical comedy in two acts, entitled, "The Love Pirates of Hawaii." There will be a special attraction between the acts.

In the play Miss Dorothy Dear is attending a Hawaiian seminary. Her sweetheart, Billy Wood, plans a secret invasion on the seminary. While there, he is captured by a band of death-thirsty pirates, but manages to escape.

Miss Firmer, a spinster teacher, brings in humor by falling in love with the bold pirate chief. Just when this romantic scene is at its height, Billy, with the United States marines arrives and saves the beautiful Hawaiian girls and Dorothy from disaster.

Another special attraction will be special selections by the high school orchestra.

(By Voecks Bros.)

When a manufacturer is proud of the product that he makes he is more than anxious to have his name closely identified with it. Every day we see examples of this in the country's best known quality manufacturers, "A Body by Fisher," "Only Packard Can Build a Packard"—and many others.

It is a justifiable pride in our product that prompts us to advertise "Sausage by Voecks Bros." We know it is the best that can be made, by human hands.

Adventures Of The Twins

The Tangle

"Hello! Hello!" The Fairy Queen speaking is that the house where the Twins live?"

"Yes, it is," said Nancy, who had answered the telephone. "How do you do, Mrs. Queen?"

"I'm very well, indeed, thank you," said the Fairy Queen sweetly. "And how are you, my dear?" And Nancy.

"We're just fine," said Nancy. "We're playing sailboat in the dining room now with two chairs and a table cloth."

"Oh! My dear!" said the Fairy Queen in a shocked voice. "I hope it is an old table cloth."

"Yes, it is," said Nancy. "Mother was just going to tear it up into window cloths."

"Well, that's better," said the Fairy Queen. "You never can guess where I am."

"Where?" said Nancy.

"Out in the snowy woods with a lot of my fairies scattering crumbs for the little winter birds," said the Fairy Queen. "The poor little mites can't get a bite to eat with the snow and ice over everything."

"Oh, may we come and help you?" cried Nancy.

"No need for that," said the Fairy Queen. "Just scatter some crumbs around your own house. And do I have all the time, and if she thought of dropping your friends to do it, too? The little chickadees will be so grateful, and the sparrows, and downy woodpeckers and nut-hatches, and all the little winter birds who are brave enough to stay here with us. They are our guests and we always feed guests to the birds, but we forget."

"The most important thing of all," hunch that the Carter woman is just forget. If your mother should forget to come back to this city for the sake of getting even with you and me. If you ask, but the birds can't. The first you do nothing about it until I ask up you must say to yourself, 'I can't work; but possibly the birds have had theirs'. And keep it up, until the first warm days of spring."

"Yes, we will," promised Nancy. "I'll tell Nick and we'll go right away. Good-bye."

"Oh, wait a minute! Wait a minute!" called the Fairy Queen. "Operator, give me Green Hill 1234 again! I wasn't through, Nancy! Indeed I hadn't begun. My little lecture on birds was just one thing I wanted to talk about. There's another very important thing. Will you and Nick help me out? There's something else very important to be attended to and I can't go myself."

"Certainly," said Nancy eagerly. "We should be delighted. Is it another adventure?"

"Yes," said her Royal Highness. "One of my Nine Hundred and Ninety-Nine Kingdoms is going to have a revolution if the king doesn't man age better. It may be that he just needs teaching, or he may be that he's no good. If he's no good I shall have to hunt for a new king. But I can't find out unless I send someone to sort of check him up, and perhaps to help him a little, if they can."

"Where is it?" asked Nancy. "It's the Land of Ilidy Go," answered the Fairy Queen. "The King's name is Ilavlook. It's a queer place with all sorts of people and things. Things that disappear and can't be accounted for. You can reach it by any crack in the wall or floor or pavement, or by the queer little holes you spy in the fields. You'll have no trouble. The magic shoes are on your doorstep. Good-bye."

BELLOIT AND LAWRENCE CAGERS CLASH TONIGHT

Orange Basketball Team Is Ready For Battle With Neenah

CLOSE GAME EXPECTED BY BLUE QUINTET

Sund and Zussman Are Scheduled to See Action in Fifth Game of Year

Lawrence college basketball five, which is making a strong bid for Midwest conference caging honors, and Beloit college, holders of last place in the circuit with several other teams, will meet in the third conference game for both quintets at Armory G Friday evening at $15.

Although the record of the visitors, who have lost their first two conference starts, would indicate that the Blue squad is due for an easy victory, Coach Denny is not of that opinion. He has been leading his men through practice at a stiff pace all week, correcting old formations and teaching new ones, particularly on the offense, and a further improvement in the work of the team was apparent in their workout Thursday evening.

Sund and Zussman are almost sure to see action Friday night, as are several other reserves if the Beloit team fails to live up to expectations of giving Coach Denny's court men a close battle. Both Sund and Zussman played in part of the Monmouth and Knox games last weekend. Their injuries are practically healed.

This will be the fifth game for the Lawrence basketeers this season. They emerged victorious in all their first four starts and their wins were over some strong teams, especially Knox and Monmouth. Only the latter two tilts were on the Midwest schedule.

If the Blue men can come through with another win Friday night, it will give them a good start toward another conference championship.

This is the kind of game which is expected Friday evening, in the opinion of Coach MacAuliffe, and he has been drilling his men accordingly. Long, grueling workouts have been the program meted out to the Orange squad this week, but all this effort is showing results. The team continues to improve, which it most certainly must do to keep in the conference race, and each succeeding game should see a better Appleton team on the floor.

Friday night's encounter is not a conference game and a loss would in no manner affect the standing of Appleton in the conference, but of course Orange supporters do not care to have any Neenah team score a victory if it can possibly be helped.

West and East Green Bay high schools meet in the only conference game Friday night. Another league tilt is scheduled for Saturday when Marinette will meet Coach Fruth's Lasketeers at Fond du Lac.

WIRE WORKS, TELEPHONE BOWLERS WIN MATCHES

Appleton Wire Works and Wisconsin Telephone Co. bowlers each won two out of three games in their matches at Arcade alleys Tuesday evening with the Oldsmobile and Wisconsin Traction Co. respectively. The Wire Works rolled a nice total of 2,623, compared with 2,433 for the Oldsmobiles, while the telephone representatives beat their opponents 2,312 to 2,311.

Appleton Wire Works—G. Ward 153, 199, 193, 547; R. McAllen 148, 147, 157, 457; O. Pruner 191, 190, 130, 520; W. Gust 148, 143, 132, 421; C. Witte 145, 105, 110, 360. Totals 791, 746, 1075, 2212.

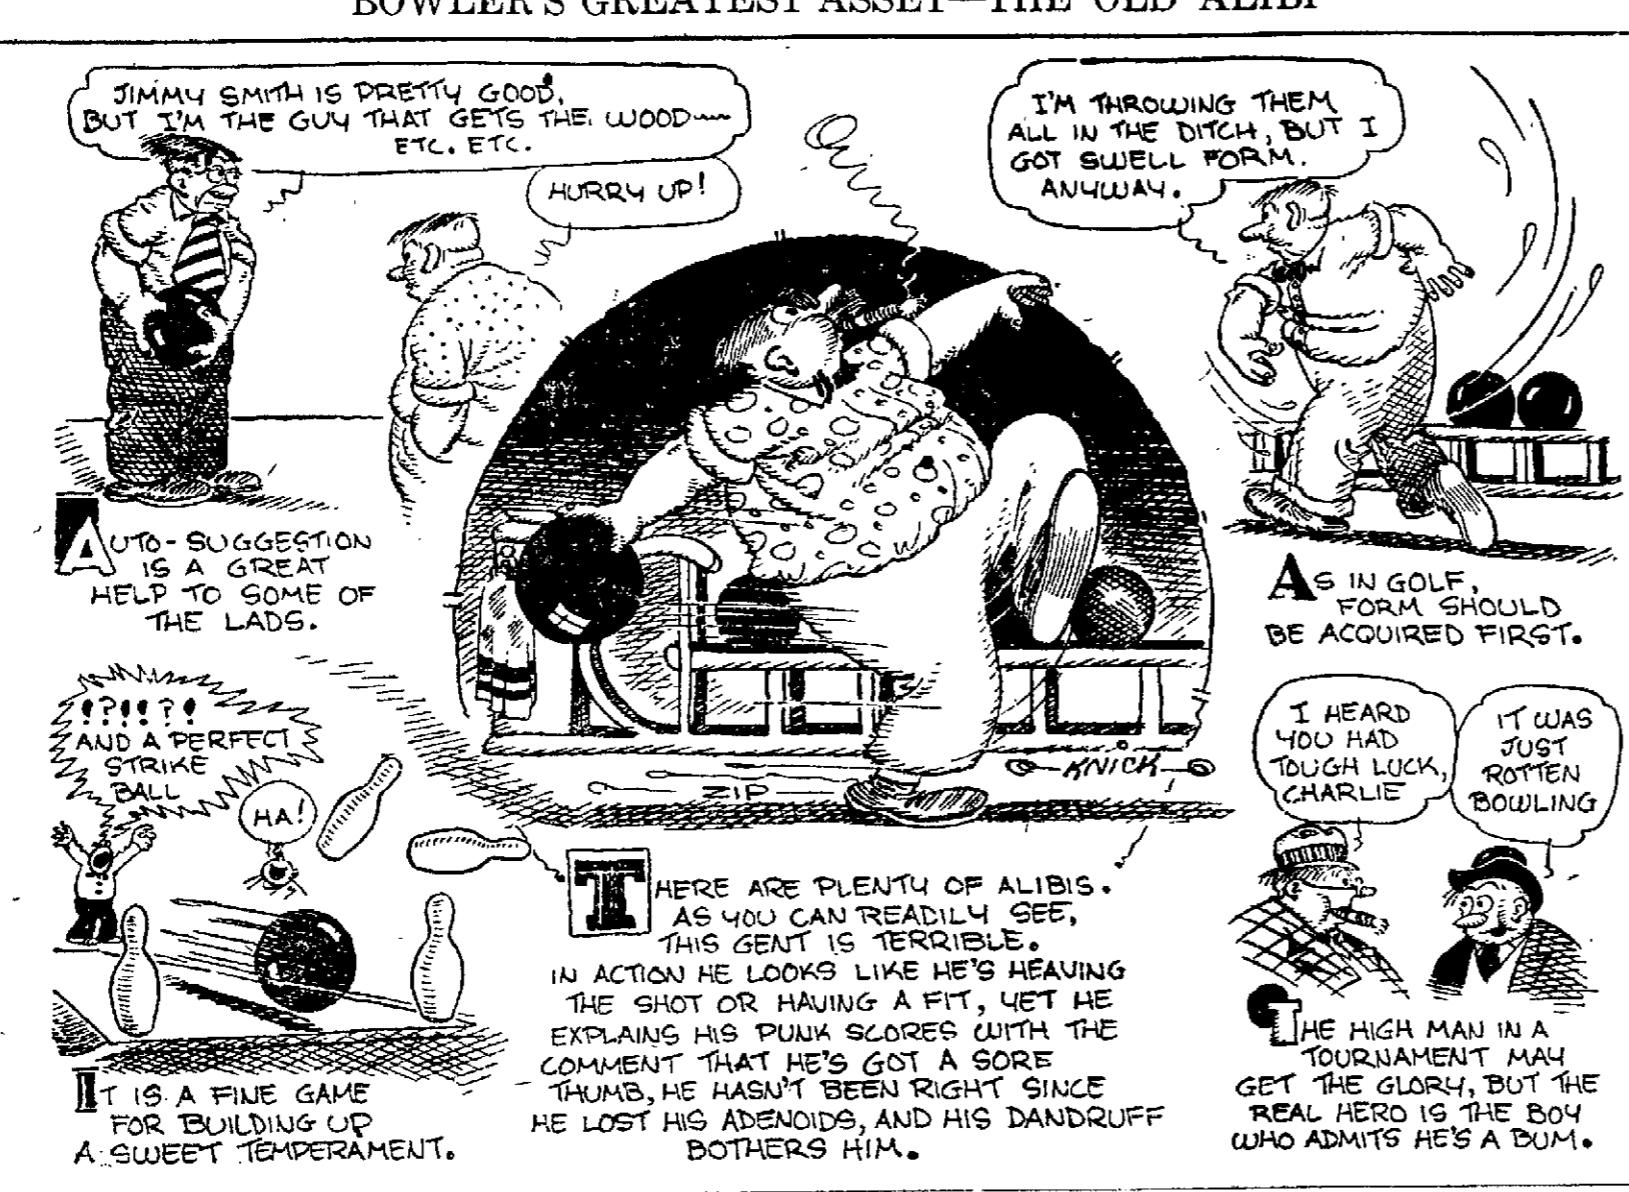

Wisconsin Traction Co.—L. Waukon 154, 150, 146, 460; Hanson 129, 134, 121, 431; Burmeister 110, 119, 170, 399; Sauskauks 130, 174, 150, 454; Larson 153, 161, 123, 377. Totals 682, 728, 710, 2121.

ORTEZ KNOCKS OUT POOLE IN 3RD ROUND

Joe Ortiz, Milwaukee, scored his third consecutive knockout in an Oshkosh ring Thursday evening when he floored Jackie Poole, Chicago, for the full count in the third round of a scheduled 10 round bout. The bout was the windup of the evening and brought to a speedy close a match which compared favorably with any put on by the legion post of that city this season. Ortiz knocked down his opponent once in the opening round and twice in the second.

Young Shaw, Oshkosh, shaded Harold Wengard, Milwaukee, in the eighth round semi-windup. The victor showed a decided improvement over his former battle with the Milwaukee youth. Rube Schipper, former Oshkosh Normal school student, shaded Ben Sullivan, Milwaukee, in six rounds and administered the latter with a mighty sorry looking black eye. Jack Howard, Oshkosh, shaded his townsmen, Jack Beale in the six round opener.

Dance Nichols, Sun, Jan. 24, Neuman's Orchestra.

BILLY EVANS Says

UNUSUAL NAME

A champion in any sport with an unusual name is always the subject of much comment. Take the case of Fidel La Barba, holder of the heavyweight title.

When he is announced as one of the performers of the evening in the main bout, his first name is given as ifzid Fiddle, common for violin.

For boxing purposes La Barba will probably always be known as Fiddle. However, the correct way to pronounce the champion's front handle is "FIDEL."

La Barba admits he is far more particular about the size of the gate than the pronunciation of his name.

GORGEOUS GEORGES

It must be rather disconcerting to American light heavies to note the fuss that is being made over Georges Carpenter.

I believe I am conservative in venturing the opinion that there are at least a half dozen fighters of Carpenter's weight who could take him.

Despite this, American promoters are falling all over themselves in an effort to induce Carpenter to sign a fight contract at a fancy figure.

The popularity of Carpenter with promoters as well as fight fans can be attributed to color. In sport, color means the fellow who is different.

Battling Siki had color, literally and otherwise. Color in sport can assert itself in many ways.

Carpenter was the Gorgeous George, the matinee idol, the Orchid Man. He broke into the society columns as often as the sport page.

Siki was just a poor "nut," constantly doing something ridiculous, but nevertheless breaking into print as often as Carpenter.

It seems the curious public is often more interested in the manners and habits of a fighter than in his real ability in that direction.

GOLF STYLES

Perhaps in no sport is dress quite so essential as golf.

The football player when he dons his uniform has the thought of protection uppermost in making the selection of his outfit.

The ball player gives some consideration to protection, but the big idea in the baseball uniform is a light flannel that will absorb perspiration and the same time look passably well.

The boxer and swimmer wear the lightest possible uniform so as not to handicap their efforts.

It is the same with practically every sport except golf with reference to the uniform. The golf player dresses largely for the matter of looks.

The latest plus fours, some of the knicker look like "Gig Sixes," with hose and sweater of many colors to match, topped off by snappy cap, gets a big play with most golfers,

However we have noted that best dressed golfers are usually the poorest players. Walter Hagen excepted, of course.

MACK CASTING ABOUT FOR NEW SHORTSTOP

Galloway is too erratic a shortstop for a probable pennant winner hence Connie Mack is looking for a capable performer at that position.

Basing Sports Defeat Green Bay Pro Quintet

Basing Sports, Appleton fast traveling pro basketball team, defeated in doubt until the end.

MacAuliffe led the local five in the scoring column with eight field goals.

Shebeygan and Jorgenson, forwards, and Basing and Kotjal, guards, all added to their total score.

Hilt, former Lawrence college freshman, Elliot and Schibe displayed the best talent for the Green Bay team.

NYE OPPOSES TRIBUNAL ON SENATE FLOOR

Proposes That Adhesion to World Court Be Submitted to People

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22.—(AP)—A proposal that American adhesion to the world court be submitted to a referendum of the voters of the states was the maiden contribution in the Senate Friday of Senator Nyne, Republican, North Dakota.

Senator Nyne who recently was seated by a margin of only 2 votes, said he realized that as the newest Senator he should be seen and not heard for some time to come. He added, however, that he could not refrain from raising his voice at this time in protest against "hasty" action on the court proposal.

The second youngest member of the senate—only Senator Robert M. LaFollette Jr., of Wisconsin, is his junior—declared that if vote were taken now he would vote against the court proposal.

Demanding to know where is the mandate from the people for immediate action, the North Dakota Senator declared it might easily be "far more dangerous to step into this world court than it will be to stay out."

"With that thought in mind," he added, "I am driven to ask:

"Why the big rush about getting into this? Why must we get into this world court before we do anything else in this chamber? Why must we enter the court Friday, Saturday, next week or next month? We've moved along quite nicely for 14 years without this court. We have the Hague Court available and functioning in the meantime. Why must we rush now into the world court?"

U. S. WILL NOT APPEAL WHEELER'S ACQUITTAL

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The department of justice will accept as final the decision of the District of Columbia supreme court dismissing the conspiracy indictment here against Senator Wheeler of Montana.

ARRAIGN DAUGHERTY BEFORE FEDERAL JUDGE

New York—(AP)—Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general of the United States, was arraigned before Federal Judge Thacher Friday for failure to answer questions and to produce records under subpoena in the recent investigation concerning the American Metal company.

TRY ALUMINUM COMPANY ON DISCARDED CHARGE

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The complaint upon which the Aluminum Co. of America is to be brought to trial next month before the federal commission is the same on which the department of justice refused to act several years ago the senate judiciary committee was told by Trade Commissioner Thompson. Mr. Thompson, who is one of the minority in the commission said a competitor of the aluminum company presented its case to the justice department in 1922 charging a monopoly in sand castings to final action by President Coolidge.

After an investigation under the direction of Herman J. Galloway, an assistant attorney general, he said the department held there was no case.

The company then appealed to the federal trade commission with the result of the complaint was used against the aluminum company, in which Secretary Mellon is interested, and a trial ordered.

Mr. Thompson said he could not disclose the name of the complainant under a rule of the commission.

ONLY TWO CASES UNDER QUARANTINE HERE

Contagion is at low ebb in this city at present according to Theodore Sanders, deputy health officer. There are only two cases under quarantine both are scarlet fever. At this time last year, there were about 30 cases under quarantine.

In addition there are at present 12 cases of contagion that are placardable. Whooping cough seems to be dying out, for there are only three cases and all of them will have the placards removed within a week. Other contagious cases include two of chicken pox and eight of measles.

JERSEY CENTRAL REGAINS POINTS

Selling Pressure Imparts Reactionary Tone to Stock Prices

New York—(AP)—Renewal of selling pressure imparted a reactionary tone to stock prices at the opening of Friday's stock market. Rals were again offered freely, presumably because car loadings in the first full week of January showed a substantial decrease below those of the corresponding week last year. Jersey Central, which broke 10 points Thursday on one sale, opened five points higher and Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron showed an initial gain of one point. United States Steel sagged to 131 1/4, a new low on the current movement.

Trading appeared to be largely of a professional character. National Power and Light, which was listed Thursday dropped 3 1/4 points to 32 and Remington Typewriter, Sears, Roebuck, Stewart Warner and United States Cast Iron Pipe sold off a point or more. Supporting orders again made their appearance and another, really, led by United States Steel common, which snapped back to 132 1/2, was under way before the end of the first half hour. National Biscuit which sold off a point at the opening to $2, rallied to $3, new record. Frisco common advanced 1 1/4 and Marine preferred, American Can, Alamed Chemical, United States Rubber, General Electric and Savage Arms advanced a point or so. Foreign exchange opened steady demand sterling ruling around $4 84 3/4 and French Franks at 3 74 cents.

Coalers moved up fast on the announcement of the acceptance by President Lewis of the miners union of the plan proposed by the scratch strike. Delaware and Hudson advanced 4 Lackawanna 4 1/4, Philadelphia and Reading coal and iron 3 1/2, Lehigh Valley 3 and Ontario and Western 2 1/4. Other railroads also strengthened notably, particularly the southern carriers. Atlantic coast line gained 3 1/4 and Louisville and Nashville 2 points. Specialties also turned strong, Dupont General Electric, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, U. S. Distributing and International Telephone and Telegraph rising two to 3 1/2. Some selling of the motors cropped out later especially in Hudson and Chrysler. Call loans renewed at four per cent.

The closing was strong. Total sales approximately 1,500,000 shares. Quotations furnished by HARTLEY COMPANY Oshkosh, Close, Jan. 22, 1926
